$202 Billion Nixon Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's first budget message will call for a federal spending total of around $202 billion to $203 billion, administration sources estimate.

To help squeeze costs down and assure a surplus, one official reported privately, the Jan. 27 message to Congress may call for cutbacks in some government services, possibly including operations of the Post Office. No details were provided.

The budget reportedly will show a surplus of "a very few billion dollars," an official said, with the help of an odds-and-ends package of tax increases, user charges and speedups in tax collections.

Nixon met Tuesday with his Cabinet, the White House reported, for a review of the budget proposals "before totally locking it up."

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler indicated the President would be able to keep his promise of a balanced budget for fiscal 1971, starting July 1.

However, doubts have been rising within the administration on whether Nixon can hold spending to $192.9 billion in fiscal 1970, as he has vowed, in view of bulging costs and rising interest outlays, plus some unwanted increases made by Congress in appropriation requests.

Still hanging fire is the $19.8 billion appropriation bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare; it carries $1 billion more for education than Nixon asked. The President also has criticized a pending military and civilian pay bill, which would affect the current fiscal year's budget.

The quest for new revenues to improve the 1971 fiscal picture has produced a variety of proposals from the Treasury. Several of them are expected to appear in the budget message. They include:

—Increasing the federal tax on cigarettes from 8 cents to 13 cents a pack, and hiking the taxes on all alcoholic beverages by perhaps 10 per cent.

—Raising the federal gasoline tax from 4 cents a gallon to 5 cents.

—Speeding up estate and gift tax payments. Estate tax payments now lag as much as 18 months after death because survivors are permitted to put a valuation on the estate, for tax purposes, either as of the date of death or one year later.

The Treasury's plan would preserve this choice, but would require payment of an estimated tax within six months after death. A refund would be made later if found necessary. The tax on gifts, applying to gifts of more than $3,000—is paid now after the end of the calendar year. The Treasury proposes to speed up the collection by requiring payment within six months.

—Requiring corporations to make earlier payment to the Treasury of excise taxes collected from the public and income taxes withheld from employees' pay checks.

—Imposing new or increased charges on users of federally supported highways, waterways, airports and airways.

—Extending the present 10 per cent tax on telephone service and 7 per cent excise tax on new automobiles beyond next Jan. 31 when both are scheduled for reduction.

Nigeria Terms Outside Help 'Blood Money'

LAGOS (UPI) — Federal Nigeria, with the Soviet Union's encouragement, attempted to feed millions of Biafran refugees today, spurning outside humanitarian aid it called "blood money."

Gen. Yakubu Gowon, federal Nigeria's chief of state, said in an interview broadcast on Nigerian Radio Tuesday night that his country had no need for the food, medicine and equipment offered by nations and relief agencies around the world.

"Let them keep their blood money," he said. "We don't want their assistance. We don't want their help. We will do it ourselves."

While Gowon's statement scorned outside help, it did not specifically rescind an earlier Nigerian government statement saying foreign agencies could send aid through Nigerian channels in Lagos.

The Associated Press reported that the Red Cross said there were 13,000 tons of food on hand, and that another 10,000 tons would be available within days.

In London, Prime Minister Harold Wilson announced that Britain would give Nigeria $12 million for relief work in Biafra, and that the Lagos government tempo-rally banned British military planes from flying into its territory, but it earlier had notified Britain it would accept emergency supplies flown in by civilian aircraft.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Elliot L. Richardson said in Washington that the United States has put $2 million at the disposal of the Nigerian Red Cross and has informed the United Nations Children's Fund that it has 48 trucks ready to be airlifted to Nigeria.

Richardson said details on U.S. aid and the handling of it will be available after a report arrives from Lagos on talks Tuesday between Gowon and U.S. Assistant Secretary of State David Newsom. President Nixon announced Monday that $10 million is available for relief work in Biafra.

The Canadian House of Commons unanimously asked its government to urge the Nigerian government to get church relief goods moving immediately into Biafra.

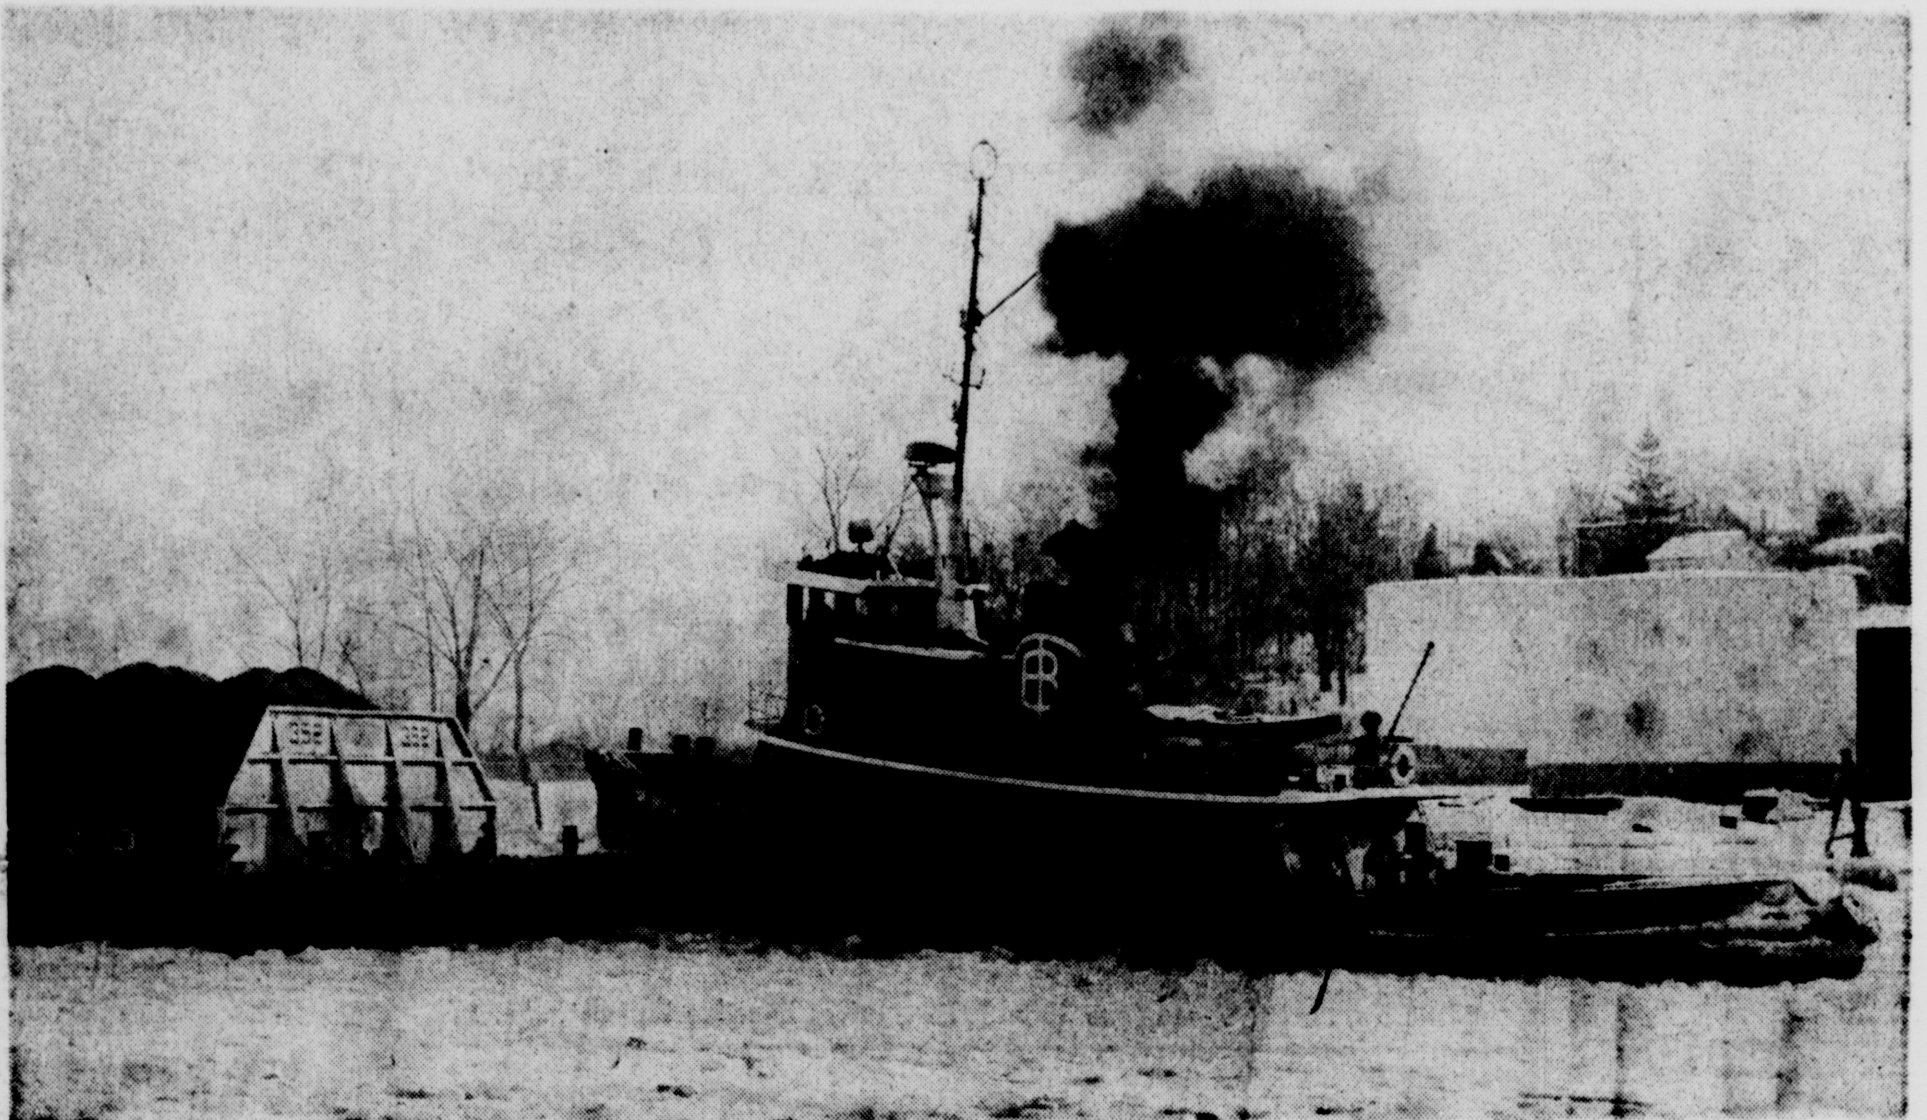

Persons returning from the war zone said Biafran troops were surrendering without difficulty and refugees were pouring out. They said there were 2,000 prisoners of war at Ikot, Ekpena and Port Harcourt, and that they saw no signs of mistreatment of Biafran troops or civilians.

Six thousand Biafran troops were reported to have surrendered to commanders of federal forces. Maj. Gen. Philip Efiogha, who took command of the Biafrans when Ojukwu fled and who announced their capitulation, asked federal leaders to halt their troops, saying the advance was causing panic among the civilian population.

Gowon's remarks came after two days of appeals from leaders around the world for permission to aid the defeated Biafrans when Ojukwu fled and who announced their capitulation, asked federal leaders to halt their troops, saying the advance was causing panic among the civilian population.

Federal troops, who overran the last bastions of the rebels over the weekend and put to flight the rebel leader, Gen. Odumegwu Ojukwu, accepted mass surrenders from Biafran troops under amnesty conditions. The Nigerian Radio said 6,000 had surrendered through Tuesday night.

Tug Ice Hops Through Rondout Creek Channel

The tug, Jean Turecino out of Wilmington, Del., maneuvers barge through thickening ice of the Rondout Creek. Fifteen consecutive days of below freezing temperatures have stiffened the waters of the Hudson River and its tributaries in the Mid-Hudson area. However, hardworking tugs and the Coast Guard ice breakers are keeping channels open for barges and tankers on the water route. Ice in the river is a foot thick now and with continued cold temperatures predicted through Friday it may soon reach the usual winter depth of 16 inches. Hopefully, the deep freeze will not match the record 1947-48 when reportedly broken ice froze as fast as cutter could crack it open. Another local record we would do well to avoid if possible is the prolonged sub-zero cold which beset the area the entire month of January in 1968. A Coast guard spokesman said today that so far ice breakers had been able to keep the channel in good working order. The only problems have been with barges becoming entangled in the ice floes and in most cases the tugs have been able to free their pay loads without assistance. (Freeman photo by Haines)

That Pill -- Some Warning Signs Are Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A drug industry, said some college textbooks give coeds "pro-pill propaganda," ignoring hazards.

The hearings were before Nelson's select Small Business Monopoly Subcommittee, which has been investigating alleged drug industry abuses for more than three years.

Davis said there are "safer alternatives" to the pill for women wishing to avoid pregnancy. He recommended intrauterine devices — "the loop" — as 99 per cent effective.

He urged the FDA to ban sequential type oral contraceptives. "The risk of both fatal and nonfatal blood clots can be reduced immediately by simply changing to the safer type of pill," Davis said.

But he said no woman should be allowed to take oral contraceptives more than two years. "The hazards of long term use of these systemic agents look increasingly ominous," Davis said.

"The potential long-range complications which might result if this vast number of women continue to take the pill indefinitely are simply too frightening to consider."

Davis said "in many clinics, Calif., said oral contraceptives the pill has been served up as if it were no more hazardous than chewing gum."

"Never in history have so many individuals taken such potent drugs with so little information available as to actual and potential hazards," he said.

Dr. M. James Whitelaw of O'Connor Hospital, San Jose, testified.

Nine million American women are consuming these compounds almost as automatically as chickens eating corn," unaware the pills may cause cancer, blood clots, diabetes or arteriosclerosis, said Dr. Hugh J. Davis in prepared testimony.

Davis, assistant professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Baltimore, was the first witness in seven days of hearings scheduled by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., to look into allegations contraceptive pills are hazardous.

Three other medical authorities testified of potential hazards, but not nearly so strongly as Davis.

Marvin S. Legator, a food and drug administration (FDA) research official, said "an exhaustive study such as carried out with cigarette smokers would be required to indicate a possible relationship between oral contraceptives and cancer."

Legator said a "long latent period" made instant tests results impossible. He said it would take "10 or more years, and even... generations in the case of a mutagenic response" to determine whether the pills cause cancer or genetic defects.

In a statement, Nelson accused some birth control pill manufacturers of "disseminating false and misleading information."

"The pamphlets which are prepared by the manufacturers and are distributed directly to patients through physicians make light of the minor dangers and do not even mention the major dangers of the pill," Nelson said.

Nelson, long a critic of the drug industry, said some college textbooks give coeds "pro-pill propaganda," ignoring hazards.

The hearings were before Nelson's select Small Business Monopoly Subcommittee, which has been investigating alleged drug industry abuses for more than three years.

The Jeering, Boos Continue For Spiro's Down Under Visit

CANBERRA (UPI) — Some 300 jeering anti-American demonstrators fought with police and K.S. Secret Servicemen today during Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's two-day visit to Australia, a country which staunchly has supported U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Police arrested at least 10 persons outside Parliament House when several young demonstrators began chanting "Go home CIA." A similar protest against Agnew Tuesday also resulted in five arrests.

Agnew was met by boos from the demonstrators when he arrived for lunch with Prime Minister John G. Gorton and his 13-man cabinet. The demonstrators carried signs reading "Moon Rocks and Murder," "Nixon Must Live," and "Speak to us Spiro."

None of the protesters got near Agnew as he walked down the steps of the house to enter his car, but scores managed to rush the light steel barriers shouting abuse and waving Viet Cong flags as he departed.

Australian police said they had to rescue the Secret Service men from the mob when the demonstrators overwhelmed Agnew's bodyguards.

The demonstration leaders complained bitterly about police manhandling of protesters, who were dragged or carried away to paddy wagons.

The vice president who has encountered demonstrators at several other stops on his 11-nation Asian goodwill tour, flies to New Zealand Thursday, his last official stop before returning to Washington Jan. 20.

Observers said the clashes in front of Parliament were some of the ugliest ever seen in Canberra between police and demonstrators.

Australia, long a friend of the United States, has sent 8,000 combat troops to support U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

Agnew briefed Gorton's cabinet on his visit to the Asian nations and answered their questions. Australian officials said they were impressed with his frankness.

Asked about France's latest arms deal with Arab nations, Agnew said "France emerges as the second country after the U.S.S.R. from which the Arabs are expecting full military as well as political support."

In Cairo, foreign ministry sources said Egypt, Libya and state of affairs," Agnew said, the Sudan, three Arab nations He said Israel had warred currently forging closer relations among themselves, have decided to strengthen their ties all that is done against her in with the French.

Moshe Dayan Spells It Out For Egyptians and Lebanon

By United Press International

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan says Israel's military policy against Egypt is not "hit and run" but "strike and return" and will continue that way until Egypt halts its cease-fire violations.

The hero of the 1967 Middle East War made the remarks to a meeting of the World Jewish Congress in Tel Aviv Tuesday night only hours after Israeli warplanes returned from making their closest strikes to the Egyptian capital since the war.

The jets attacked the El Khanka army base nine miles northeast of Cairo, a major supply depot for the Egyptian base 25 miles northeast of Air Force, and the Tel El Kabir base 25 miles northeast of Cairo, said to be Egypt's largest military installation.

Dayan described his nation's military policy as a "static" one with "dynamic tactics."

"As long as the Egyptians are revoking the cease-fire, we hit them hard and often deep in the rear," he said. "This is not hit and run but strike and return."

Discussing Israel's relations with its northern neighbor, Lebanon, the defense chief said Israel "shall assume the rights of passage" into Lebanon if the Beirut government allows the country to be turned into a "Fatahland."

"We do not accept such a state of affairs," Dayan said, the Sudan, three Arab nations He said Israel had warred currently forging closer relations among themselves, have decided to strengthen their ties all that is done against her in with the French.

Douglas Recants on Confession

By WALTER S. CLARK
KINGSTON

Recanting part of a confession in which he allegedly told authorities that he killed Mrs. Theresa Carpino, 61, in her upper Broadway tavern, 27-year-old Jimmie Boston Douglas told a County Court jury Tuesday that he did not kill the woman and that he lied to protect a friend.

Douglas, on trial before Judge Raymond J. Mino for the strangulation murder of the tavern operator, testified under direct examination by Harry Gold, defense counsel, that he was in the Circle Bar and Restaurant on the early morning of July 1, 1969, and saw Alonzo Trammell hit Mrs. Carpino and knock her to the floor and then kick her before he (Trammell) picked her up and took her into the rear of the restaurant.

Douglas recalled the night of June 30 when he and Trammell visited several taverns before going to the Circle Bar a second time. He testified that Trammell went in the tavern "cussing" and made indecent remarks to Mrs. Carpino. The defendant said Trammell went back of the bar and hit the proprietor knocking her to the floor, kicked her and then picked up Mrs. Carpino and took her to the back room. Subsequently Trammell reentered the bar from the rear and Douglas asked "I said man why did you do that?" Trammell, the defendant testified, replied, "man you don't know me that's the third (obscenity) I've snuffed."

As they left the tavern, Douglas said, Trammell told him to take a bank bag that was on a stool. The two then went to Trammell's apartment at 303 in the tavern, and he testified he didn't see any fire. Under cross-examination by District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca, Douglas was asked, "You just stood at the bar and watched Trammell kick and choke Mrs. Carpino?" The defendant replied, "Yes, I was scared." The defendant testified that he saw Trammell light several matches in the tavern but didn't see him set fire to papers.

Asked by Gold, "Did you kill this woman?" the defendant replied, "No sir, I did not."

"Did you set fire to the building?" the attorney asked, and Douglas replied, "Not to my knowledge, I didn't." Later he said he didn't set fire to papers in the tavern, and he testified the courthouse lobby before testifying before the grand jury. Trammell approached him and threatened to kill him. The witness denied that he "had an axe to grind" with Trammell. Under cross-examination, Douglas said that on a visit with his parents in South Carolina he told his mother that he and "Al" were involved in killing a woman. Douglas testified that he felt he was involved as much as Trammell because he was a witness to the Circle Bar incident.

Blocked Again

By LYNN MULVANEY
KINGSTON

It's back to the drawing boards for historic Clinton Avenue in the uptown Urban Renewal area.

Little was resolved at a meeting of interested parties Tuesday night except that the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency's plans, which include removing some old buildings from the area was blocked once again by members of the Kingston Historic Trust.

Members of the State Historic Trust, who also were present, indicated that they nominated 10 buildings in the area for inclusion in the National Historic Register. If accepted they would be eligible for federal funds for preserving their historic character.

The issue which has been a source of contention for some time seemed to be a matter of priorities.

"We are more interested in preserving rather than creating an environment," said William G. Tyrrell of the State Historic Trust when viewing the renewal agency's plan for the rerouting of Clinton Avenue.

Nathaniel Parish of Raymond and May Associates, urban renewals planners, offered a plan much the same as one accepted by the agency in 1964. Commenting on the inclusion of walls, brick paved walks, street furniture and ramps, Parish classified the design as one which would enhance the area. Parish volunteered he didn't feel any of the 10 buildings have historic significance other than the Red Cross building.

Tyrrell argued that there is "character" to Clinton Avenue as it now stands. "None of the buildings by themselves are very important but together they provide the sum of historic Kingston."

The alignment or realignment of Clinton Avenue, an important factor in both the agency and the Trust's plans was another bone of contention with William Mahoney of the urban renewal agency. He claimed that at the intersection of Westbrook Lane and Clinton Avenue "you are developing a potential death trap."

Charles A. Herr of the New York State Department of Transportation offered his services to all groups concerned.

2-County Arrests On Drugs

KINGSTON

Investigation conducted by the detective division under direction of Lt. Charles McCullough resulted in the arrest Tuesday of two teen-age youths on several charges involving sale and possession of narcotic drugs.

Meanwhile, Poughkeepsie police took into custody a 49-year-old man who was accused of criminal possession of dangerous drugs — heroin — a felony.

Lt. McCullough said detectives arrested Donald Lawrence, 18, of 21 Summer Street and Bruce Finch, 17, of R. D. 1, Box 154, Kingston, on bench warrants. Lawrence was taken into custody at his home and Finch was picked up at Albany and Clinton Avenues at 5:10 p.m.

McCullough said the warrants charged Lawrence with criminal sale of dangerous drugs fourth degree, and criminal possession of drugs 4th and 5th degree — LSD. Searched by detectives after his arrest disclosed Lawrence was in possession of marijuana and implements — pipes — adapted for use of administering drugs. He was also booked for criminal possession of dangerous drugs 6th degree and a violation of the Public Health Law involving the pipes.

The lieutenant reported Finch was booked on the warrant charged with criminal sale of dangerous drugs 2nd and 4th degrees and criminal possession of dangerous drugs 4th, 5th and 6th degree. Those charges involved amphetamine and heroin. McCullough noted. Searched later, Finch was found in possession of heroin and he was also charged with criminal possession of dangerous drugs 6th degree.

The arrests followed a lengthy probe by the detectives.

In Poughkeepsie, William Gordon Thomas, 49, of Eastman Terrace was arrested. Dutchess County District Attorney Albert M. Rosenblatt described Thomas in the arrest warrant as "a major supplier of heroin to local addicts. Six other persons were arrested with Thomas and later police took two 17-year-old girls in custody in front of police station and charged them with disorderly conduct. Police said all arrests were connected.

Authorities seized 50 packets of heroin and a loaded gun with the arrest of Thomas and the other six persons.

Rocky Submits Deficiency Fund

Budget Closing in on $6.5 Billion

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Governor Rockefeller's annual budget pushed closer to the $6.5 billion mark today as he proposed a deficiency spending program of $93.7 million.

The deficiency budget is used by the governor to pay state bills late in the fiscal year that were not anticipated when his original spending program was drawn up a year ago. Last year his deficiency budget hit a record $229 million.

In his budget summary published a few months ago, Rockefeller listed the state's spending program as $6.4 billion. The deficiency would bring this total up to nearly $6.5 billion, but the state's total fiscal picture will not be clear until Rockefeller unveils his new budget for the coming year next week. Any surplus that the governor has found during the 1969-70 year could bring the total down.

The main items in the deficiency program were:

- $18.6 million in state purposes,
- $121.9 million in local aid,
- $47.3 million in capital construction.
- $2.3 million in first instance funds which will be repaid later.

The additional state aid programs recommended by the governor included a $13 million appropriation for the school lunch program, which was part of the administration's "food on the table" plan. New York City will get $10 million and upstate $5 million of the additional funds.

Underestimates in aid to secondary and elementary schools resulted in a request of $6.6 million, while a $10 million community college aid revision was also proposed.

Rockefeller requested an advance of $3,740,000 for the financially plagued Long Island Rail Road.

"The Long Island Rail Road company will end 1969 with unpaid bills overdue 30 days or more totaling $10.4 million," Rockefeller said in a memorandum accompanying the budget bill. He said the new advance, which will have to be repaid, was in addition to a subsidy of $8.5 million appropriated for the LIRR in last year's deficiency budget.

The eight-month delay in construction of the Harlem office building will cost the state $6 million, Rockefeller said. Community groups protesting the construction project forced the delay.

The governor said the added money was necessary because of the need to rebid some contracts and the added overhead caused by the delay.

The governor also requested $326,110 for the Metropolitan Transportation Authority to operate, develop and improve Stewart Air Force Base for civil aviation.

Other major requests included:

- $4.6 million for State University pensions contributions, which were underestimated.
- $4 million for snow removal for the Department of Transportation.
- $3.5 million for workmen's compensation insurance which is normally paid on a deficiency basis.
- $21.1 million for increased allowances to schools for special pupils including $870,000 for private schools for the deaf and blind and $1.2 million for other special schools.
- $21.5 million to reimburse the capital construction fund for planning and reconstruction of the state Thruway.
- $19 million for the construction of medical school buildings at the State University at Stony Brook to permit opening of the health science center in September 1970.

Highland Goes Back To Court on Friday

By SHANE CROSBY

HIGHLAND

The Highland Central Schools returns to State Supreme Court Friday where charges of conflict of interest have been levied in the awarding of a site work contract for the proposed $2.5-million elementary school.

The district's attorney, Stewart Schantz, told the Highland Board of Education Tuesday evening that a petition has again been served upon the school by the Lehmann Construction Company of Kingston. He said the case is due to be heard in a Troy State Supreme Court Friday.

The case, which was before an Albany Supreme Court justice last Friday, involves the awarding of a $154,000 site work contract to a son of a Highland Board of Education member.

Raymond Constantino, son of board member Joseph Constantino, heads the Rebina Construction Company. His bid, said to be "slightly below" the school's estimate of the job's cost, was the lowest of five received. Lehmann was the second lowest.

School officials seemed reluctant to discuss the case, and the board of education meeting at which Schantz gave his report on last week's court session was adjourned into an executive session while details of the case were discussed.

The school's attorney said the reason for the sudden withdrawal of the Lehmann charge last Friday was because the state's man suggested to Lehmann that he re-draft his petition and submit it a second time.

During a discussion on the cost of removing rock from the proposed site, it was reported that this might cause a major delay in site preparation and that initial estimates that it would cost under $200,000 were low.

Silvio Chaisan, board president admitted that the site work may run from $200,000 to $300,000.

"We don't want to remove all of the rock, just enough to make room for the sprawling school," he said.

According to the specifications, after a specific amount of rock has been removed, and it appears more will have to be removed, negotiation will have to be conducted with the contractor to cover additional costs.

DEPARTMENT

HELD IN DAD'S DEATH — A 14-year-old girl and two young men with whom she lived in a hippie colony "crash-padded" in Arlington, Va., have been charged with murdering her father with a crowbar. The girl, Debra "Muffin" Mattingly, is shown being led into Arlington police station where she was held under $50,000 bond. The dead man is Richard L. Mattingly Sr., 63, executive secretary of the District of Columbia Board of Corrections. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Space for '70s — A Fund Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — After enjoying lavish funds in the '60s for its exotic forays into space, NASA is beginning the '70s with a purse drawn so tight it can barely stay aloft. It won the '60s race with the Russians; it is losing out to the national needs of the '70s.

Its already shrunken work force is being cut by 50,000 people. Other curtailments may signal an indefinite delay in sending men to Mars and a slowdown by at least a year in the next big space moves—building a space shuttle and advanced earth stations.

To save money, the space agency will stretch out its moon landing flights to two a year for the seven flights remaining, skipping 1972 entirely. It will postpone a planned unmanned landing on Mars by at least two years and order no more Saturn 5 rockets beyond the eight being built or nearing completion.

In the manner of a man discussing the terminal illness of a close friend, administrator Thomas O. Paine announced the cuts Tuesday, saying he is "taking actions to redirect portions of our space program to bring NASA's total operations in line with the budget which we will work with in fiscal 1971."

He did not say how much space agency money President Nixon will request when he submits his budget Jan. 27, but it was obvious the figure will be no more than $3.7 billion—the lowest in a decade. The total may even go below $3.5 billion. With three moon flights in the current fiscal year, NASA's spending will be about $3.6 billion, down from a high of $5.23 billion in 1965 and $5.175 billion in 1966.

"NASA can move forward strongly while still achieving greater economy in 1971," Paine said. "While we will be reducing our total effort, we will not dissipate the strong teams that sent men to explore the moon and automated spacecraft to observe the planets."

Paine pointed out the agency already has announced closing of its Electronics Research Center in Cambridge, Mass. "We estimate," he added, "that the total number of Americans working in NASA programs will decline from 190,000 at the end of fiscal year 1970 to about 140,000 at the end of fiscal year 1971."

At the peak, in 1966, the figure was 420,000.

Last September, while the nation still was flushed with the success of the Apollo 11 first landing on the moon, President Nixon received recommendations from his space task group on space goals.

It listed three choices, all incorporating development of the space shuttle—an airplane-like craft able to fly into space and return repeatedly—and the advanced space station, to house 100 persons. Two of the options envisioned landing men on Mars in the 1980s. The third left the timetable open.

It was known the President favored a progressive program and the announcement was expected about Christmas. A budget allocation of $3.8 billion—enough to get started on the long-range goals—was thought possible for the next fiscal year.

But following passage of the tax reform bill the President took soundings of the mood of the people, White House sources say, and apparently found, going to the moon for more rocks was not of high priority. As a result, there is still a chance he may cut off some moon flights.

Paine said the President may not announce space goals until late winter or early spring—probably to give the White House time for more pulse taking.

My Lai Probe — More on List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of persons under Army investigation or charged in the alleged My Lai massacre of Vietnamese civilians has grown to 35—nine more than reported by Army Secretary Stanley Resor to Congress last Nov. 26.

The increase results from evidence turned up by Army probes during questioning of men who witnessed, or knew about, the events at the Vietnamese hamlet March 16, 1968.

The investigation is far from finished. Officials consider it possible the list could grow even more, although some persons now under investigation could be cleared.

Four soldiers have been charged so far and two of them have been ordered to face court-martial trials. Decisions on whether to try the other two may be weeks off.

In addition, there are 13 soldiers and 18 former soldiers whose actions at the time of the My Lai episode are under scrutiny.

The Army has refused to identify any of those under investigation except the four men formally charged.

Meanwhile, the Army has ordered consolidation of the investigation and the processing of allegations under a single senior officer, Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, commanding general of the 3rd Army at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

The only cases to remain out-of Connor's control will be those of 1st Lt. William L. Calley at Fort Benning, Ga., and Staff Sgt. David Mitchell at Fort Hood, Tex.

They are the only ones so far ordered before courts-martial and the Army said their cases have progressed to a "point where transfer would be impractical."

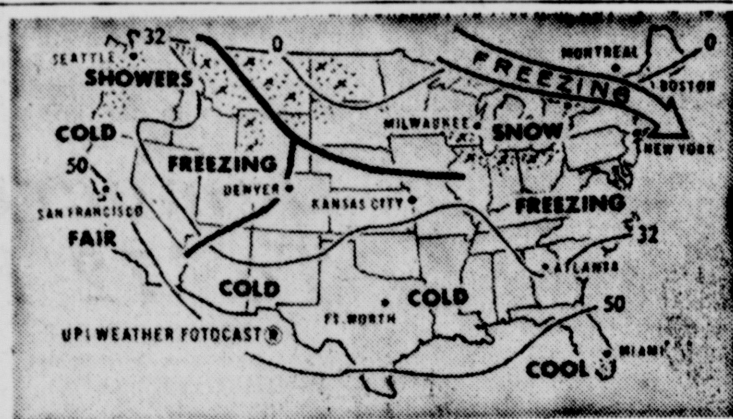

Calley has been charged with premeditated murder, Mitchell with assault with intent to commit murder.

The cases of the two other soldiers already charged will be shifted to Fort McPherson. The consolidation of all but the Calley and Mitchell cases was brought about, the Army said, by "the scope of the investigation and the number and scattered locations of possible witnesses both military and civilian."

As a result, the Army said, a number of men who are either under investigation or potential witnesses will be reassigned to Fort McPherson or nearby Army installations.

The Army did not estimate the number of persons who will be concentrated at Fort McPherson.

More than 140 witnesses have been questioned both here and in Vietnam by a special Army board trying to determine why a field investigation of massacre reports right after the alleged incident led to no legal or disciplinary action.

Retesting Auto Drivers

Despite our long love affair with the contraption, Americans are still something less than completely at home or in perfect control of the automobile.

Proliferation and pollution are, of course, the most obvious and pressing problems that currently make autos something more, or less, than merely beautifully styled conveniences.

But even in such an apparently routine area as keeping track of vehicles and drivers, procedures developed during almost three-quarters of a century of experience still leave something to be desired.

Driver testing has long been standard operating procedure throughout the country. All states now require some type of examination for applicants for first licenses—written or oral tests, road tests, always eye checks and sometimes additional physical examination.

Variations occur from state to state in requirements and thoroughness of application, but the general pattern is one of conscientious supervision of first licensees.

It is another story, however, when it comes to renewing licenses. The pattern revealed by a National Safety Council survey is one of widely differing practices and all too often almost complete indifference to how well health and judgment continue to measure up to the requirements of safe and responsible driving.

For example, only two states (Illinois and Virginia) automatically repeat road testing for renewals. In another eight it is optional, with an examiner deciding. In 15 states, a written test is repeated.

The states are somewhat more attentive to the state of driver health with 32 requiring new vision tests (but only three—California, Florida and Washington—both to check hearing for even a first license). And 11 states and the District of Columbia recognize age as an important safety factor by requiring full retesting before renewals starting at ages ranging from 57 to 75.

Many untrustworthy over-30s can recall a more innocent and optimistic time when proof of age—and usually a very young one at that—was all that was required for a driver's license. We've come a long way since then, but still have far to go. Adequate testing is the beginning, not the end of efforts to reserve the roads for qualified drivers.

No Recession

A slowdown, but not a recession, is the forecast of Dr. Carl H. Madden, chief economist of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The slowdown could last at least nine months, according to Dr. Madden, who says "no recession is likely."

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce economist, in his year end outlook, further cheers the 1970 picture with the calculation that unemployment "probably will not reach five per cent." This is not greatly alarming, as unemployment reached four per cent in the late summer with no generally disturbing results.

The growth rate for dollar gain in the Gross National Product for 1970 is predicted by Madden to reach 2.7 per cent, only .3 per cent less than last year's three per cent gain. The slowdown will be felt through the third quarter of the new decade's first year.

Dr. Madden credits consumers with the intelligence to continue wise spending (Ed. note: This can be done by retailers maintaining good advertising levels), so that the decline in defense spending (about $5 billion) does not throw the economy askew. The business specialist sees business investment spending as showing some dollar increase in 1970.

When investments can continue to be made, when employment drops but little, it looks like a very good year. That is, if the consumer can keep his head and continues his normal buying. He's the key. It all depends on you.

David Lawrence Says Agnew's Candid Remarks Win Public Approval

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the strangest phenomenon in public life today is the rise in prominence of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. The Gallup Poll now rates him as third — just behind President Nixon and Billy Graham — among the nation's "most admired" men.

Normally, a vice president gets relatively little publicity. He attends important state functions, makes speeches in different parts of the country in behalf of the administration in power, and travels abroad on ceremonial missions. He attracts some attention, but nothing like that which has been given to Mr. Agnew. The reason? He did the unusual — he talked back loud and clear.

The Vice President probably has been as surprised as everybody else at the public notice he is getting. He may well have wondered why. For what Mr. Agnew said with reference to the critics of the administration was not far different from what had been said before by its spokesmen. What was really different was his bluntness in phraseology and, most of all, the fact that he tackled a subject that was deep in the minds of the American people.

There are waves of criticism always about any administration. But the people have a sense of fairness. Particularly in the first year of a presidential term, they are inclined to be sympathetic toward the man who has taken over the toughest job in the world — the presidency of the United States. What occurred in this instance, of course, was that for months the spokesmen for the so-called "intellectual" groups and the crusaders who claimed to be speaking for the younger generation were heard with some dismay by the public generally.

It was not until President Nixon addressed the nation on radio and television and made a straightforward, simple and persuasive argument for his Vietnam policies that the climax came. For there were millions watching and listening, and it happened that the commentators followed a course they had not exactly pursued in the past — they "analyzed" the President's speech as inadequate, and instantly presented critics to the same audience, without themselves dealing with the subject as objectively as many listeners thought they should.

Mr. Agnew was outspoken in his own speech a few days later, but the public welcomed his outburst enthusiastically because it felt that the President of the United States deserved the support of the people in his foreign policy. They liked what Mr. Agnew said as he expressed his resentment and assailed the critics.

Instead of letting Mr. Agnew alone, moreover, his opponents kept the spotlight on him. They accused the Vice President of trying to impose a censorship on radio and television and the press. The people who read or heard his speech didn't note any demand for censorship. Instead, Mr. Agnew had specifically said he was not advocating any such course. But the net result of the controversy was to give new status to Mr. Agnew for his courage as a valiant fighter for the administration's side of the argument on Vietnam.

Spiro Agnew has assured himself of an audience whenever he speaks. He is much too sensible a man to misuse his prestige. He was subjected during the last campaign to a lot of misrepresentation. Although his own record on "Civil Rights" issues is a good one, he was accused of being a "racist" just because he denounced violence by protesters and called for a crackdown on law violators.

Any public figure who is a victim of unfairness not only resents it but wishes that, when he makes a reply, he could get as big an audience as his detractors have had. The Vice President now has become a recognized spokesman for the administration and attracts attention wherever he goes.

Mr. Agnew is an intelligent individual, and the more he becomes identified with some of the issues that confront the administration, the more helpful he will be in his public addresses. It is not the first time someone in public life has gotten a big audience by speaking out candidly and forthrightly. But, significantly, it sometimes takes a battle of words and a recognition of the true undercurrents in the people's mood at the moment to win in the court of public opinion.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Did my generation revolt against our elders? Ah, yes. We called ourselves The Lost Generation. We were flappers and finale hoppers and our parents called us Flaming Youth. We read books by Faith Baldwin, F. Scott Fitzgerald, Elinor Glynn, William Faulkner and other sexy sneaks. They were read under the pillow, with a flashlight.

Our parents were too pious, too perfect, insufferably respectable. So, at ages fifteen to seventeen, we broke the ties which bound us to them and turned bohemian. I once knew a wild crazy girl who actually bobbed her hair, wore a dress above the knee, rolled her stockings below the knee, chewed gum and burned Chinese incense in her room.

She had me reading American Mercury magazine in no time. She also offered me a straw-tipped Melachrin and I smoked it as we swam in sin. We did crazy dances like The Charleston and Black Bottom, and I wore a suit with 23-inch trouser legs, a double-breasted suit, a double-breasted vest with pearl buttons, gray spats and a gray felt hat with the brim up.

Our dads wore high stiff collars and high-laced shoes and tight pants. At parties, we were well behaved and drank grape juice from a punch bowl until the parents retired. Then we passed metal flasks of gin around. Someone found the light switch and couples drifted into corners to clutch each other and watch the bosoms heave with deep breathing.

A boy could drink until he was "blotto" at which point his pals would walk him home. Girls spoke of emancipation and freedom, and quoted Dorothy Parker and Edna St. Vincent Millay. Girls who drank too much laughed hysterically and wept and were called "bags."

The music was June Night; Linger Awhile; Charmaine; I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby; Time on My Hands and Mississippi Mud. All girls played the piano; all boys had a cheap ukulele. Our hangout was The Speakeasy. Our parents had passed a law prohibiting the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, so we invented heavy drinking.

Young fellows grew hair-line mustaches and tried to talk like Ronald Colman. Our shoes were brown brogans with thick soles and heels. They weighed three pounds apiece and we could be heard walking from a block away. The girls wore a combination panty-set and slip called "step-ins" and some of them would remove a dress and dance in "step-ins" if we burned enough incense and played hot jazz. The dance was always the same. She took off the dress, removed the shoes, leaned back, and stroked a thumb downward from her lower lip.

This was considered to be so sexy that some boys blushed and turned away.

Most girls wanted a "boyish" figure and bound their breasts in lung-strangling brassieres. They were the first to use a bull's eye of rouge on both cheeks and a cupid's bow of lipstick.

Clara Bow and Joan Crawford were her heroines. She wanted to marry Rudolph Valentino or John Gilbert or both. Fellows with sex appeal were called "sheiks." The more dangerous a boy, the more popular he was with the girls. Some kids danced the Tango, but not in front of their parents.

Fathers made "home brew" in the cellars, but the kids drank "smoke," a combination of raw alcohol and juniper and water. To our way of thinking, the pious puritanical world of Warren Harding and Calvin Coolidge was no damned good. A boy getting out of elementary or high school begged his father to get him "working papers."

Did we have a revolution against the world of adults? Indeed, yes. We were wild and crazy and smoked cigarettes in the bathroom and blew the smoke out the window with our hands. We were nuts, to be sure. The only fault I find with my generation is that, in time, we became adults...

Jack Anderson Says Mutual Fund Operations Enjoy Outrageous Overcharges

WASHINGTON — A powerful, unpublicized lobby has been working in the back-rooms of Congress to let mutual fund operators feed greedily on millions of small investors.

There are five million mutual fund shareholders, many of them salting away a few hundred dollars a year for a child's college or for retirement. Millions more belong to pension funds and investor groups which own mutual securities.

For years, the mutual fund operators have been getting away with outrageous overcharges. By the industry's own dubious figures, investors paid out a shocking $190 million in advisory fees alone during the 1969 fiscal year.

Contract investors, who comprise about 10 per cent of the mutual fund shareholders, often pay 15 to 50 per cent of their investment to the voracious fund hustlers. Mutual funds with reasonable fees have either failed or had a hard time operating, because salesmen openly scorn the lower commissions.

Last year, the Securities and Exchange Commission made a timid attempt to give the poor shareholders a break. It endorsed legislation that would protect the investors from paying unreasonable fees and permit them to collect refunds for overpayments.

Double dealing

But the mutual fund lobbyists got busy in the back-rooms to outmaneuver the SEC. An outraged SEC chairman, Hamer Budge, came close to accusing them of an outright "double cross" in their dealings with the commission.

He specifically named the Investment Company Institute and the Association of Mutual Fund Plan Sponsors, which represent 90 per cent of the $55 billion in mutual fund assets in the United States. Their lobbyists, cool and convivial, demonstrated their quip skill at wheeling and double dealing.

Here's the backstage story of how they put the screws to the SEC and the small investors: In the past, the SEC had failed to curtail the mutual fund operators' runaway fees, because of the magic they were able to work on Capitol Hill. But public pressure built up last year for reforms.

The powers in Congress advised the SEC, in effect, to work up legislation that would mollify the public but still be acceptable to the mutual fund operators. Last April, the SEC sat down with the brilliant president of the ICI, Robert Augenblick, to try to reach some agreement.

In long days of talks, the SEC gave up one point after another. But finally, the SEC thought it had an agreement with Augenblick and other industry representatives that they would not block a bill, which would give shareholders a right to sue for fair fees and would make a few other reforms.

Word of the "agreement" reached the Senate, which assumed that the securities industry would not oppose the weak measure and, therefore, passed it unanimously.

Months passed before house hearings were set for November 12. Two days before the hearings, Augenblick informed a dumbfounded Budge that the mutual fund operators now also wanted a self-regulation clause in the bill. The effect of this would be to nullify the meager reforms.

Bewildered Budge

Budge had been so sure his agreement with the industry was solid that he had mimeographed his testimony and had sent advance copies to the House Committee, telling of the SEC agreement with the mutual fund men. Now, he was obliged to summon his aides to the office of November 11, the Veterans Day holiday, to help him rush out a rewrite.

Later, Budge bitterly denounced the mutual fund representatives for winking on their agreement.

Reached by this column, spokesmen for both the big mutual fund groups denied vehemently and at some length that they were double-crossing the SEC. David Grayson, speaking for the mutual fund plan sponsors, told my associate, Leslie

Whitten, that it was all a "misunderstanding."

Explained Augenblick: "With the passage of time, it seemed that the self-regulation provision was worth having."

Under self-regulation, the mutual fund operators have been charging exorbitant fees and have been growing fat on the payments of their customers. Salesmen have tried to justify the avaricious fees with the claim that they are selling "security." But the sorry performance of the average fund in 1969 belies all talk of "security."

It can be demonstrated statistically that a blindfolded man with a dart and a list of stocks would have done better, in many cases, than did the mutual fund operators.

Meanwhile, the mutual fund reforms are languishing in the House Commerce and Finance subcommittee while the SEC tries to work out another agreement with the glin operators.

Chairman John Moss, D-Calif., is fighting a lone battle inside the subcommittee for the reforms. He is opposed by representatives Bill Stuckey, D-Ga., G. Robert Watkins, R-Pa., and Fletcher Thompson, R-Ga., who are working behind the scenes with the mutual fund men to fleece the small investors.

Police Corruption

The narcotics underworld in the nation's capital has succeeded in enlisting two, perhaps three, more policemen. Their cases are on the way to a federal grand jury.

At least once, a police car was used to transport narcotics.

City and federal officials have refused all comment. However, this column correctly reported on November 26 that several police officers were under investigation. In mid-December, two were arrested for heroin possession. One was mysteriously murdered, gangland-style, a few days later.

This penetration of Washington police comes at a time when big-league Mafia figures have stepped into the heroin traffic in the capital.

The two or three additional officers involved in drug trafficking are among some 20 whose names were turned into the Metropolitan Police Department's Internal Investigation Division. Most of these leads turned out to be false rumors, a precinct-house bad mouthing, and unprovable allegations.

In the new cases, the two or three policemen were involved in pay-offs, use of narcotics and actual drug hustling.

Democrats Seek Pilot To '72 Political Fortunes

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) —

The Democrats are going downhill in their quest for a 1972 presidential nominee, and prospects are not bright for an early reversal of this outlook.

Since the big jolt at Chappaquiddick last July which took Sen. Edward Kennedy out of the picture, the party has had nothing at all to cheer about on the candidate front.

At a comparable time before the 1960 election, John F. Kennedy had already emerged as a strong front-runner for the out-of-power Democrats.

In 1962, before his remarriage, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was far ahead. After that, Sen. Barry Goldwater quickly took a commanding position for the opposition Republicans.

Four years later, the GOP had a clear leader for the 1968 nomination in George Romney. As he began to falter Richard Nixon swept ahead.

With 2½ years to go to the next nomination decision, today's Democrats are in a jumble.

Post-Chappaquiddick, there was a natural surge toward Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, the 1968 vice presidential nominee. His reputation for cool-headed integrity, for a kind of low-key reasonableness, stood him in good stead as leaders looked frantically about.

But the truth in early 1970 is that there is no steam in the Muskie thing. He has had some verbal encounters on major issues which have diminished his status in the eyes of some political advisers.

Indeed, if these private discussions had occurred against the backdrop of hard-news campaign events, Muskie probably would have been ripped apart the way Romney was as he fumbled endlessly with the Vietnam issue in the 1966-68 period. Even as it is, Muskie has been hurt as word of his unimpressive showings has gone about.

Most of the other candidate names presently in the hopper are even weaker leftovers from 1968: Sens. Eugene McCarthy and George McGovern, and the 1968 nominee, Hubert Humphrey.

McCarthy, the empty vessel into which the antiwar forces poured so much only to see it all run out after the campaign, is thought to be still harboring notions about another try. If the war is somewhat defused well before 1972, it is hard to see where he could find the necessary credits. Inflation is hardly his bag.

McGovern simply is positioned too far leftward in the spectrum to attract wide Democratic support. No serious politicians talk of him.

Cite Former Navy Recruiter

Navy Warrant Officer Emile Slivka, a former Kingston recruiter, was awarded the Bronze Star with 'V' Combat Devise while stationed in Vietnam in 1968. The award was recently announced by the Navy.

Slivka, who came to Kingston as a chief petty officer and was commissioned a warrant officer while on duty here, lived in Bloomington and was active with that community's volunteer fire department. He was a Kingston recruiter from October of 1965 to October of 1967.

Slivka was stationed in Vietnam for a year, returning to Mayport, Fla. in May of 1968. Quick of Chichester, is undergoing boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center in Illinois. SR Quick, in a recent call to his parents, mentioned how valuable Scouting has been in his present training.

In Marine Corps News, Sergeant William R. Bonesteel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonesteel of 119 Cedar Street, Kingston, was awarded the Combat Action Ribbon while serving with the Second Battalion, First Marine Regiment, First Marine Division in Vietnam.

The Ribbon is awarded to those men who have been directly endangered by enemy fire or explosives.

Seaman Recruit James Quick son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith of Route 3, and husband of the former Miss Joanne Coogan of Route 4, all of Kingston, was promoted to his present rank while serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing in Vietnam.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

Air arm of the Third Marine Amphibious Force, the First Marine Aircraft Wing operates several hundred aircraft including fighter, attack, reconnaissance, helicopter, and transport aircraft.

Lance Corporal James M. Cady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cady of 18 Princeton Street, Red Hook, is serving with the First Battalion, 26th Marine Regiment, First Marine Division in Vietnam.

When not engaged in major operations, Marines of the battalion participate in company and platoon size sweeps through the battalion's area of responsibility in search of enemy infiltrators.

Lance Corporal Robert R. Milewski Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Milewski of Route 1, Kerhonkson, is serving with the Second Battalion, First Regiment, First Marine Division in Vietnam.

Private Raymond G. Hunlock, of Ellenville, graduated from Combat Engineer Basic Specialist Course at Marine Corps Engineer School at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

His training at the school included instruction in rigging, land mine warfare, mine-sweeping and camouflage.

Upon completion of the course he was qualified for duty with a Fleet Marine Force unit.

Lance Corporal William C. Kniffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Kniffin Jr. of 11 Trow Blvd., Red Hook, is serving with Force Logistic Command (FLC), in Vietnam.

FLC, headquartered at Camp Books near Danang, is the largest supply service and organization in the Marine Corps. Comprised of seven battalions and two major support groups, the command serves all Marine and Republic of South Korea units operating in the northernmost tactical zone of South Vietnam.

Individual missions of FLC and its subordinate units range from providing military police and scout sentry dog service, to complete communication support.

Marine Private First Class Ernest C. Neilsen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Neilsen of Route 4, Kingston, is serving at Marine Corps Base, Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif.

The base, located between the Mojave and Colorado Deserts, is the largest Marine Corps base in the world.

It provides Marines with artillery and missile ranges.

Captain Wey Wins Bronze Star

Army Captain Edward J. Wey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar I. Wey, Blue Mountain Park, Saugerties, received the Bronze Star Medal near Quan Loi, Vietnam.

Capt. Wey was presented the award for meritorious service in connection with military operations against hostile forces in Vietnam, while serving as commanding officer of Headquarters Battery, 6th Battalion of the 27th Artillery.

The 28-year-old officer entered the Army in October 1959 and was stationed at Ft. Lee, Va., before arriving in Vietnam last February.

Capt. Wey is a 1959 graduate of Saugerties Central High School. The presentation was made Nov. 24.

Guard Seeks New Officers

KINGSTON — The 1st Battalion 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard received information this week that authority has been granted to permit former warrant officers and enlisted men to apply for direct appointments as commissioned officers in the Army National Guard.

Of particular significance is the information that veterans in grade E-5 or above with recent combat experience may apply for a direct appointment as a Second Lieutenant in the Army National Guard.

Lt. Col. Frank B. Aceto, commanding officer of the battalion, noted that many benefits are available to prior service men through membership in the National Guard. He advised that "officers who have recently completed active duty tours are invited to visit my command and discuss the possibility of obtaining a position in one of the units of the 156th Artillery."

Col. Aceto further explained that the experience which former active duty servicemen have gained would be extremely valuable in training his units.

The 1st Battalion, 156th Artillery has units located in Kingston, Newburgh, and Poughkeepsie. Full-time personnel are available daily at the state armories in each city to assist personnel who are interested in continuing their military association in the National Guard.

Jack Smith, U.S. Air Force Staff Sergeant Jack E. Smith, son of Mrs. Marie F. Smith, 1017 Hibbler Circle, Chattanooga, Tenn., is on duty at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam. The sergeant is a 1955 graduate of Kirkman Vocational High School. His wife, Jean, is the daughter of Doctor and Mrs. Leroy Nydegger, Rt. 32, South New Paltz.

Sergeant Reid C. Mackey, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Mackey, 107 Huguenot Street, New Paltz, was graduated from the Drill Sergeant School Nov. 15 at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

During the six-week course, he was trained in drill, leadership, physical training and effective military instruction methods.

FT. HOOD, TEX. (AHTNC) — Hugh Rivera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rivera, Route 1, Woodstock, N.Y., was promoted Oct. 22 to Army specialist five at Ft. Hood, Tex., where he is serving with the 2nd Armored Division.

A mechanic in Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion of the division's 41st Infantry, Spec. 5 Rivera entered the Army in May 1967 and was last stationed in Korea.

The 21-year-old specialist graduated from Alfred E. Smith

Vocational and Technical High School, Bronx, in 1967.

James W. Taylor Jr., 21, whose parents live on Sand Hill Road, Gardiner, was promoted to Army staff sergeant Nov. 18 while serving Headquarters Battery, 1st Battalion of the 1st Armored Division's 6th Artillery.

His wife, Dorothy, lives in Killen, Tex.

Man Arrested Is Poor Sport

KINGSTON — Released from jail on bail Tuesday, Frank R. Lent, 27, of 322 Albany Avenue left the Ulster County Court House with something to remember him by — broken glass and blood-spattered steps.

Lent, who had been arrested earlier by State Police on a charge of driving while intoxicated, put his fist through a window pane of the front door as he left the building. He was taken to the hospital for treatment of a cut hand.

Restitution for the broken pane was promised and Lent will appear Jan. 21 before Ulster Town Justice Robert Ferrigan on the intoxication charge.

Man Suffers Face Burns

KINGSTON — Gene Nelson of 75 Abeel Street received flash burns of the face at about 7:20 a.m. today as the result of a blow back in a space heater in his second floor apartment. He told firemen he would see his own physician.

Engine 3 from Cornell went to the dwelling at 7:27 a.m. after firemen were notified of smoke coming from the house. There was no fire but considerable smoke, officials said. Firemen in charge of Deputy Chief Robert Maines reported back in service at 7:57 a.m.

The property is owned by Lodean Howell of 32 Tompkins Street and Joseph Lawson of 409 Foxhall Avenue.

Woodstock Jaycees Slate Guest

WOODSTOCK The well known guest of the Woodstock Jaycees announced today the guest speaker for the annual guest night meeting at Deane's, on January 28th in Woodstock will be County Legislator William R. West.

West, a founder of the local young men's organization and past president of the Woodstock Jaycees, will speak of young peoples involvement in government and give a rundown of projects before the Ulster County Legislature.

Paltz Woman Is Certified As Librarian

NEW PALTZ Mrs. Ruth E. Frampton of Chodokee Lake Road, Highland, who is employed in New Paltz Central School Library, was among 14 who received certification by the State Education Department as professional public librarians.

The certification was made by the Division of Library Development of the New York State Library.

This permanent certificate allows the recipients to hold advanced professional positions in registered public and free association libraries in the state serving areas having populations over 5,000.

Holders of the certificate have completed graduate professional study at an approved library school and met advanced requirements through written examination and professional experience.

Camp Counselor Course Starts At Local YMCA

KINGSTON For the eighth consecutive year the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County is offering a camp counselor training course for people 16 years of age and over starting Wednesday, from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. and will continue for 12 weeks.

The class will be held at the YMCA, Broadway. The textbook used is Camp Counseling by A. Viola Mitchell and Ida B. Crawford, which is used by many colleges and considered one of the best books for training of new counselors.

The course will include the growth and objectives of organized youth camping; the counselor as a leader and on the job; camp program planning and activities; waterfront safety; camp craft and woodsmanship.

More than 150 young people have taken this course and found employment in the many camps in Ulster County area, both resident and day camps.

The YMCA has been a pioneer in the field of youth organized camping with the founding of Camp Dudley on Lake Champlain in 1885. Today, the training of leadership is the key to a good camp program.

Applications for this class may be obtained by calling or stopping in at the YMCA a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

WILLIAM R. WEST

Community Dinner

Nelson Shultis will be in charge of the Community Dinner to be served at the Overlook United Methodist Church on the Beardsville Road in Woodstock on Saturday, Jan. 17. Featured on the menu will be oyster stew and Virginia baked ham, to be served family style from 5-7 p.m. The public is cordially invited.

Immaculate Conception Children Help UNICEF

KINGSTON Immaculate Conception School, Delaware Avenue was omitted. The pupils of Immaculate Conception School collected a total of $525 in the drive. James Olen of the Eighth Grade was drive chairman.

Hurley Vols to Dine

HURLEY Prime ribs of beef will be served at 7:30 p.m. followed by dancing from 9 until 1. Ticket reservations may be by contacting Glen Dinsmore, Glen Lockwood, Curt Voigt, laender or Donald Wells.

Special Non-Credit Evening Courses at State University College, New Paltz, N. Y.

Center for Continuing Education
Spring Semester 1970

Registration by mail is now taking place at the College's Center for Continuing Education for the following general interest, non-credit courses:

CE102 THE HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN FILM
This course will review the American film from its beginning to the present decade, starting with INTOLERANCE, the famous film by Griffith and ending with Mike Nichols' WHISKY AFRICA! OF VIRGINIA WOOL. Many different aspects of the American cinema, such as the great comedians and the psychological studies of the recent decades will be shown and analyzed. Among the great directors whose works will be seen are: Ford, Sternberg, Hitchcock, Welles, Wilder, Ray and Huston.
Dr. Hugo Munsterberg
Total tuition: $35.00

CE105 UNDERSTANDING MODERN ART
This course is designed to promote a critical understanding of the practices and rational formulations of the most contemporary aspects of modern visual art. The course will include slide illustrated lectures; simple manipulative demonstrations that may be performed by students; discussions and field trips to pertinent exhibitions here, at local galleries, and in New York City.
Dr. Henry Raleigh
Total tuition: $30.00

CE14 TODAY'S THEATRE: PLAYGOING
This course will center around three field trips to New York City to see plays. Two class meetings will be held for each field trip taken. At the pre-show class there will be a lecture involving the forthcoming play. In addition, the playwright will be discussed; previous works, writing style, etc. Other aspects of play production will be presented: scene design, actors, lighting, costumes, and director. After the trip, there will be one session devoted to a critique of the play seen.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kraut
Total tuition: $30.00
(In addition, students will pay for theatre tickets and group transportation)

CE15 YOGA
Course A: Beginner's Hatha Yoga
Hatha yoga is one of the oldest and finest systems of Physical and Mental Culture. Its practice develops a strong body able to resist disease, and a healthy well-balanced mind gradually trained to meet life's problems with a steadfast poise and calm.
Course B: Beginner's Meditation and Philosophy
The Philosophy and theory underlying the practice will be covered. In addition, students will have an opportunity to attend an extra session devoted to cookery and a healthy diet.
Mrs. Ralita McKee
Total tuition: Course A: $45.00 Course B: $60.00
Begins February 10, 1970

CE13 SCULPTURE
This course offers basic techniques of working with clay and related materials and tools. Working from the human form, both conceptual ways of approaching the subject and beginning and developing ideas for sculpture will be presented.
Mr. Robert Adzema
Total tuition: $40.00
(will include costs of clay and model fees)
Begins February 16, 1970

CE11 PAINTING AND DRAWING
Appropriate for both the new and experienced painter, this course will include ways of beginning and developing ideas for oil painting color and light theories, and basic drawing and compositional concepts. Students will work from a variety of studio problems. Studio work will be supplemented by group critiques and slide lectures. (Students will purchase consumed materials.)
Mr. Alexander Martin
Total tuition: $35.00
Begins February 5, 1970

CE81 RHYTHMIC FUNDAMENTALS FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CHILDREN
This course is designed to give the beginning teacher competency in methods and content related to the teaching of rhythmic fundamentals for the elementary school children. Emphasis is placed upon fundamental movements, folk dances and singing games, and creative activities.
Dr. Gloria Bonali
Total tuition: $35.00
Begins February 11, 1970

CE40 BALLET FOR ADULTS
This course is intended to serve as an introduction to the study and appreciation of the dance as an art form, applying its benefits to physical fitness and limbering. After the first class session, beginning students will meet at 7:30 promptly, more advanced students at 8:30. Class sessions will include warm-up barre exercises, center floor combinations (adagio, allegro), demonstrations and discussions. For men and women, active dancers and beginners. Class attire will be discussed at the first class meeting.

Crantz to Head Rapid Hose Again

 Fred Crantz was reelected president of Rapid Hose Co. No. 1 at the recent annual meeting at the fire company rooms, 85 Hone Street.

WHITA Urges Some Changes

KINGSTON
 Members of the WHITA (We've Had It Taxpayers Association of Ulster County, Inc.) have suggested changes in the state Education Department in a letter to State Senator Jay P. Rollison Jr. and State Assemblyman H. Clark Bell.

The letter, signed by Chairman Michael Antonelli, lists as suggested changes:
 Allowing all school districts in the state to vote on a school budget, not more than twice a year. If the budget is not voted on the second ballot, then the salary schedule should revert to that of the previous year.

Cessation of all lobbying by the Education Department at the taxpayer's expense.

Cessation of payment to faculty and guest lecturers and speakers who encourage strikes and cutting off of public scholarships and public loans and possible expulsion to the same persons.

And no tenure to faculty in public education systems until a residence of at least five years, and then only a five-year renewable tenure.

Local Flotilla Slates Courses

KINGSTON
 Mrs. Clara K. Morris, commander of U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla, has scheduled two public instruction courses in small boat handling and seamanship.

The first course will be held at Kingston Power Boat Club House, Abeel Street, starting on Jan. 19 at 7:30 p.m. The second course will be held at New Paltz Municipal building (Town Hall) Plattekill Avenue, starting on Jan. 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Classes will be open to all small boat owners and their families. Non-boaters are also invited to attend these free courses. They are designed to help the novice boatman learn fundamentals of safety and courtesy afloat. The course will consist of a two-hour class each week for eight weeks. A certificate of proficiency will be awarded by the Coast Guard to all who pass the final examination. Instructors serve without compensation, however, there is a small registration fee to cover the cost of books.

Wawarsing Sets GOP Meetings

ELLENVILLE
 Wawarsing Town Supervisor Frank Harkin has announced that two Republican meetings are scheduled — one Friday and the other Jan. 20 — to discuss possible candidates for village posts that are up for vote in March.

Harkin, who serves as chairman of the town's GOP, urged all area Republicans to attend the two meetings planned for both Fridays in the town offices at 8 p.m.

There were 937 million acres of trees in the United States when the Pilgrims landed.

Uhl, vice-president; Woodrow Diehl, recording secretary; Peter Fisher, financial secretary; John H. Dittus Jr., treasurer, and Robert Richmond, trustee to 1972. The other two members of the board of trustees are Martin Kelly to 1971 and Gerard Kelder Sr. to 1970.

Line officers elected for the year were Robert Hinkley, captain; Robert Reinhardt, first lieutenant; John Whitaker, second lieutenant.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis P. Brennan of St. Peter's Church, Wurts Street, was appointed chaplain.

John H. Dittus Jr. was named delegate and Robert Hinkley, alternate, to the Firemen's Association of the State of New York whose 98th annual convention will be held in Watertown, Aug. 16-19. Delegate and alternate to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association convention in June at East Greenbush are Robert Hinkley and Robert Richmond.

Walter Buboltz and Roland Kelly were named representatives to the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association; John Dittus Jr., representative to Kingston Fire Fund Association; Robert Hinkley, Robert Reinhardt, John Whitaker, John Dittus, John Perpetua and James Sheeley, representatives to Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Association. Custodian for the year will be Woodrow Diehl.

The annual dinner and dance of the company will be held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, Saturday, Jan. 31 at 7 p.m. Henry Boice, chairman of the banquet committee, reported arrangements were completed.

Ticket reservations should be made not later than Saturday, Jan. 24. Other members of the committee are Gerard Matthews and Robert Richmond. All members of the company, Ladies' Auxiliary and friends may attend.

Taiclet Heads Wiltwyck Hose
 KINGSTON
 Emile Taiclet was reelected president of Wiltwyck Hose Co. No. 1 for the seventh consecutive year at a recent meeting.

Serving as vice president is William Ryan. S. Maxwell Taylor was named treasurer and Walter C. Schmitz was named secretary.

Reelected to the post of captain for the 16 consecutive year was Orvil Kimbark. Other officers include Arthur Gumaer, first lieutenant and Thomas Ryan Jr., second lieutenant.

Delegate to State Firemen's Association Convention was Herbert E. Van Duesen. Delegate to the Hudson Valley Volunteers Convention was Walter Schmitz. Robert Ross and Thomas Ryan Jr. were delegates to the County Volunteers Convention.

Elected to the executive committee for three years was Arthur Gumaer. Thomas Ryan Jr. will serve on the committee for two years and John Nelson for one year.

Elected as delegates to the Kingston Volunteer Association were Kimbark, Gumaer and Ryan.
 Captain Kimbark was named trustee to Kingston Firemen's Fund.

DAR Plans Awards Ceremony on Feb. 6

SAUGERTIES Mrs. Nieffer, delegates. Arrangements for a ceremony on the presentation of DAR awards for recent contests were discussed at the January meeting of Saugerties Chapter held at the home of Mrs. Robert Freiligh. Mrs. Lewis Gaylord, regent presided.

The Regent requested that Mrs. Robert Freer be appointed secretary pro-tem due to the illness of Mrs. John Lowther.

It was announced that the approved papers of Mrs. Louise Lowe Simmons had been received from the National Society in Washington. The Regent read the welcome to Mrs. Simmons. Mrs. Simmons' ancestor was Christian Myer. Membership Chairman Mrs. Carroll Nieffer gave the second reading for membership of Cynthia Myers Petty, ancestor of William Dedrick. A ballot was taken with results in the affirmative.

Mrs. Daniel Lamouree, DAR School chairman reported that during December she had sent a Christmas package to Sherry White, the Saugerties Chapter's adopted student at Tammassess School; coupons to Crossnore School and the Mental Health Agency, and also a package to Crossnore School.

A report on the 73rd State Conference at Syracuse was given by Mrs. Lamouree and

Councilmen Elected At West Camp Church

SAUGERTIES were Nelson G. Burhans, Albert J. Cawein, Mrs. Catherine Finch and John Tobiasen. William H. Trumbour Jr., of Asbury was elected to succeed Daniel Wynne, who did not seek reelection.

Installation will be held at the Sunday worship service of Jan. 18. Because of the jubilee program, the reading of annual reports was waived and these will be sent to members of the congregation by mail.

Following the dinner, the pastor, the Rev. Alvin F. Messersmith showed color slides of the remodeling program.

Voters must be at least 21 years of age in all states except Georgia, Kentucky, Alaska and Hawaii.

Reelected to three year terms and Hawaii.

OLDEST, CONTROVERSIAL — Three 7th Air Force planes spray chemicals to defoliate South Vietnamese jungle below, and thus reduce cover for guerrillas. The spray, shown being loosed in September of 1966, is harmless to human and animal life. The action is one of war's oldest programs and perhaps its most controversial one. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Sipperley On Committees

RED HOOK — Red Hook legislator Madison Sipperley Jr. was moved to the planning and capital projects committee in standing committee assignments. The move was announced by Chairman George Reid of the Dutchess County Board of Representatives.

Paltz Language Meeting Is Set Thursday

NEW PALTZ — The New Paltz college union building's main lounge will be the location of a panel discussion on the changing aspects of teaching foreign languages in the Mid-Hudson area, Thursday evening at 7:15, a spokesman for the discussion sponsors announced.

Sponsored by the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, the discussion will be conducted by the Foreign Language Teachers of the Mid-Hudson Area.

George Fenley of the study council said three teachers of foreign languages, one of whom also serves on the Poughkeepsie School Board of Education, will take part in the talk.

Repair Work On Manhole Near Completion

KINGSTON — The city department of public works expects to complete repair work on a manhole on the corner of Broadway and East Chester Street within two weeks.

A spokesman for the department said that the city water department has completed underground work on the site where one of its water mains burst about a month ago.

Diplomatic Irony

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The Soviet Union, which recently established diplomatic relations with Peru for the first time in history, ironically has opened its embassy on Havana Street.

Sipperley had previously been serving on the airport and public works committee during the past year and a half. He was also named to the personnel committee.

The capital projects group views all major county projects before they come before the board.

Sipperley has lived in Red Hook for 25 years. A graduate of Red Hook High School, he served with the U.S. Navy during World War II and the Korean conflict. He has worked with IBM in Poughkeepsie as a plant manager for 18 years.

State Police Command Post Changes Listed

ALBANY — The command of State Police Troop T, the unit patrolling the 559-mile State Thruway, will be taken over this week by James J. Leary whose promotion from inspector to major has been announced by Superintendent William E. Kirwan.

State Police Troop F at Middletown will have a new captain on its roster Thursday. He is Robert F. Orr, who most recently has been a lieutenant in the traffic section at Division Headquarters, Albany.

Toastmasters Name Members

KINGSTON — John Porsch, the incoming president of Kingston Toastmasters, presided over the initial 1970 meeting at the Holiday Inn last week. Frederic Snyder, well known professional speaker, acted as toastmaster with Richard Van Dyne as the table topics chairman leading a skit of newspaper reporting.

The main speakers assigned to the program were Daniel Reinhard, Bernard Trowbridge, Eugene Merigliano and Joseph Marks.

Joseph Quick evaluated the proceedings of the entire meeting.

Two Get Adjournments On Robbery Charges

ELLENVILLE by Albert I. Lonstein, attorney, gained an adjournment until Jan. 20 and bail of $2,500 cash or $5,000 property bond was continued. He was committed to jail, unable to post bond. David Nixon, 30, of 169 Center Street, who was arrested during

They were identified by police as 30-year-old Herbert Sanders of 151 Center Street, and Russell Robinson, 19, of 43 Market Street, both of this village. Sanders, represented by Attorney Ben Lonstein received an adjournment until Jan. 30 at 7 p.m. He also is charged with possessing a starter's pistol without a license, obscenity, possessing stolen property and unlawful possession of a .22 caliber pistol. Bail was fixed at $2,500 on the robbery count and $500 on each of the other charges. In lieu of bail of $4,500 he was committed to the county jail.

Robinson, who is represented by the investigation of the alleged robbery on a charge of criminal possession of dangerous drugs, 4th degree—heroin, received an adjournment until tomorrow and Judge Elias continued bail at $2,500 cash or $5,000 property bond. He was committed.

The arrests of Sanders and Robinson were made by Lt. George Sheeley and Patrolman Norman Green, who investigated a complaint from Julio Cruz of Clinton Avenue, who told authorities he had been robbed at gunpoint of $600 by two men.

When police entered the apartment Saturday night they said they saw Nixon throw a metal container into the toilet bowl. The container, police said, contained heroin. Twelve decks of the drugs were recovered, according to authorities.

Says Saugerties Teachers Report Is Misleading

SAUGERTIES was instructed before negotiations were concluded that it should seek to lower the psychologist's salary ratio. The Board's attorney states that he told the STA attorney "acceptance of his (the STA) final salary demands would necessitate a reduction of the psychologist's salary ratio." Following the final negotiation session on July 23, the Board's attorney reported that this was part of the agreement. The contract with the STA date for the meeting has been school opened in September. The STA failed to keep its promise to notify the Board of its willingness to ratify by Aug. 15. The Board was prepared to approve the contract at its regular meeting on Aug. 18, Dr. Arnold said.

Meeting Canceled

West Shokan

District Deputy James E. Platt and staff of Phoenicia IOOF initiated several officers at Shokan Lodge 491 Saturday. The balance are scheduled to be initiated this Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Davis of Olivebridge have returned home from an Ohio trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rinehard and son Randy were New Year's guests at the George Carr home in Shandaken.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cruikshank returned home from a two-week visit to relatives on Long Island.

Olive Town Board members organized Friday. Appointments made include Mrs. Lena Barringer, welfare officer, and John Lynch, Justice of the Peace. Newly elected Supervisor Frank Carle presided. Lester Davis, supervisor for seven terms, retired.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tisch Jr. visited parents for the holidays.

Elwyn C. Davis has located a copy book dated 1866 from the red schoolhouse of school district number eight. The late Mrs. Ella Loomis of Phoenicia, who died at over 100 years of age, taught there in the 1870s.

Mr. and Mrs. Swan Brewster entertained their daughter, Mrs. Clifford Ingham, and family during the holidays.

Ralph McRoberts of Broadhead Road has returned home from Benedictine Hospital.

Martin Eckert was given a party on his 96th birthday Jan. 2 by family and friends. He recalled the great flocks of wild pigeons which used to be in Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith of Ledgerock hosted Longyear family reunions over the holidays.

Kobelt Field Open, but Still On the Market

WALLKILL

Kobelt Airport in Wallkill "is open, has been open and will continue to remain open," Harvey Schoonmaker, of Newburgh said today.

A stockholder in the airport corporation, Schoonmaker explained that due to severe weather conditions some services have been curtailed but the facility is still functioning. He said that every effort is being made to keep the field plowed but that the heavy snowfall had hampered the operation.

Schoonmaker also said that the airport has been and is for sale.

Synagogue Building Sold to SDA Church

By JEAN F. DOLAN

KINGSTON The building at 24 West Union Street which has served as synagogue for Congregation Agudas Achim for the past 48 years, has been sold to the Kingston Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The Orthodox Jewish congregation will hold services and meetings at 254 Lucas Avenue, vid Popick, president of the congregation. The structure contains sanctuary with pews, vestry room and kitchen. Property included in the $18,000 sale runs from West Union Street through to Abeel Street.

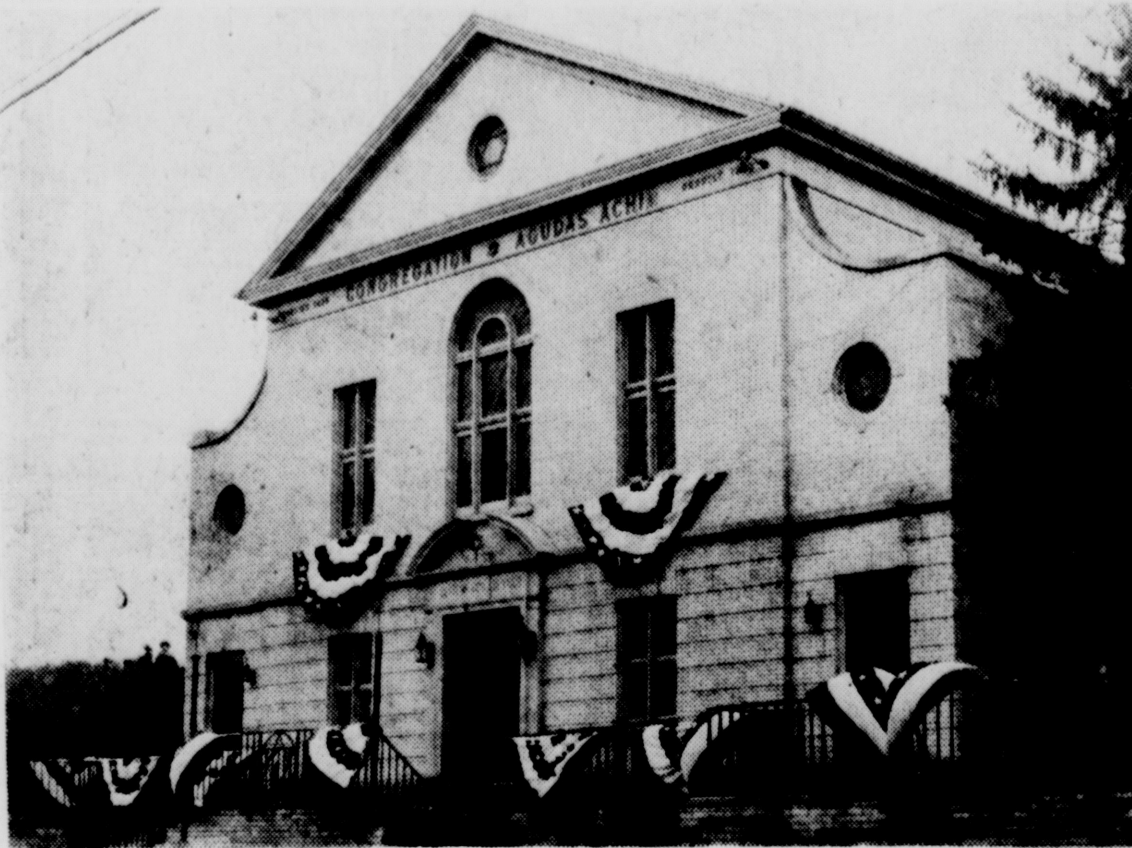

Purchase was made possible through the New York Conference of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination. The Kingston SDA has become very active in the past few years and recently was changed from chapel to church designation. Meetings have been held at the New Central Baptist Church, 229 East Strand, as well as at other temporary locations in the city.

Congregation Agudas Achim, which has served Orthodox Jews of the Kingston area for 133 years, had no permanent meeting place until purchasing the West Union Street site.

It is believed that the congregation was organized when the first members of the Amdur Cavalry returned from the Civil War. Services were originally held in a small house on Pierpont Street when a Mr. Lan-kisky was president.

Later Griffin Hall on lower Hasbrouck Avenue was used for services. In 1890, another congregation, Anshei Emes, merged with Agudas Achim when the shul moved to the corner of West Union and Post Street. The present site was acquired from the Polish Catholic Church which moved to the Delaware Avenue property.

After alterations the synagogue was put into use for services. Further renovations were made in the 1940's. Building plans for the new synagogue were drawn up last year. Serving as chairman of the building committee is Alex Parnett with Hy Kohn as building fund chairman, Rabbi Howard Gershon is spiritual leader of the congregation.

The Way to Win

Self-Preparation Key

By MIKE ROTHENBERGER Copyright © Dale Carnegie & Associates, Inc. 1967 All Rights Reserved Number Five in a Series

A little more than a century ago a boy was born in Italy who was destined to effect the lives of many thousands of people throughout the world. He was but a small lad when he became a student of the cello and before he had reached the age of ten he demonstrated his uncanny ability to memorize music by the entire score. In his seventeenth year he began playing in concerts and at nineteen he became chief cellist for a touring opera company. They toured to South America and on the second night of the season, in Rio de Janeiro, the Brazilian conductor got in a quarrel with the vocalists. He became so angry that he refused, at the last minute, to go on with the performance. First the associate conductor was called to the podium but he was hissed down by the angry audience. Next the chorus master made an attempt but the audience would have no part of him.

It was a desperate situation. The house was filled with indignant people who demanded a first-rate performance. There was only one thing left to do and that was to call the skinny little cellist from the pit because he knew the entire score from memory. The audience sat nervously, ready to boo him down. They watched intently as he calmly stepped to the podium. He gracefully raised the baton and the performance began. By the end of Act One the audience was cheering wildly because of his skillful performance.

From that day on Arturo Toscanini rose rapidly to a life of fame and fortune. A few years later he was called by many, the greatest of all conductors. He became a legend in the halls of musical fame.

Of course Toscanini had outstanding ability, but he had something else that was equally important to his great success and that was his willingness to prepare himself in advance so he would be ready for his opportunity when it came. Regardless of his natural ability, his career would probably have been far less glamorous had he not spent untold hours in self-preparation by memorizing the musical score well in advance of that moment when opportunity was to knock at his door.

Suppose that, just like the other musicians with whom he worked, he had gone on day after day playing his own part with no thought of the performance as a whole. The chances are that he would have remained in obscurity and the world would never have known of his great talent.

It was Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives for so many years, who said, "Readiness for opportunity often comes by accident but readiness never does." We cannot wait until opportunity knocks before we begin to prepare ourselves for the things we want most in life because opportunity will not wait. If we are not ready when it comes it will quickly move on to someone else. But there is something each of us can do about it. We can begin our preparation now, this very day, to be sure that we will be ready when greater opportunity does come our way.

(The next Dale Carnegie article will appear in Friday's newspaper. The course is sponsored by The Daily Freeman.)

Response Good

KINGSTON The response to the Dale Carnegie Course in the Kingston area has been tremendous, according to Harold Schultz, area manager of the Dale Carnegie Course. The Daily Freeman is sponsoring the course as a public service.

In an interview today, Schultz said, "we are working on a backlog of telephone calls and other inquiries and those who have responded will be given additional information as soon as possible.

"The response to the Dale Carnegie Course here in Kingston is expanding at a rapid pace each year," he added. Information is available by calling The Freeman at 331-5000.

Children's Home Sets January 29 Meeting

KINGSTON The annual meeting of the Children's Home of Kingston is scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 29 at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Reservations for the meeting will be accepted by calling the home before Tuesday Jan. 20.

Guest speaker for the event will be Clark W. Blackburn, general director of the Family and Service Association of America, according to Lawrence B. Siewers, home director.

Blackburn is the chief administrative officer of a national membership federation of more than 300 community-serving agencies in the United States and Canada. These agencies take leadership in the Family Service field which has made a major contribution to the development of social casework as a profession.

Blackburn became General Director of Family Service Association of America in August, 1952. Prior to that he was for eight years executive of the Family and Children's Service of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Well known in the social work field, he holds an AB degree from Yale University and an M.Sc. degree from the School of Applied Social Sciences, Western Reserve University.

At the meeting the important additions and developments of the expanding Children's Home operation will be reviewed. During the past year the home moved much of its administrative and academic facilities to the former Academy of St. Ursula complex at 26 Grove Street.

Connors Assesses 1st Year, Satisfied With UR Progress

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON — "We've done more than I thought we would," was the way James G. Connors, executive director of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, assessed his first year in office.

Connors officially took over as director of the city's two projects on Jan. 1, 1969. At the time he expressed optimism that real progress would be made in 1969.

What were his feelings in January of last year? "I was of course aware of Kingston's problems," he said. "I wasn't aware of the people's feelings on urban renewal in Kingston. It seemed as if everyone was disgusted and discouraged with the program. I made the job much tougher. I got the feeling, at first, that I was the only friend the program had. I think this attitude has changed."

Connors said that when he arrived on the scene "we didn't have a parcel of land ready to be sold to a redeveloper . . .

because buildings and properties hadn't been acquired and families and businesses hadn't been relocated."

"We have solved our acquisition and relocation problems in Broadway East," Connors said. "We've got one parcel in redevelopment (a small housing project near Newkirk Avenue), two small industrial parcels ready to go, the city hall parcel

The agency has received its first proposal for redevelopment Uptown, an offer from a local firm, Basement Realty, Inc., to develop what is known as the Good Year property on North Front and Converse Streets.

Connors' January 1969 optimism in Kingston's two projects seems justified at this point and with redevelopment in sight the conclusion of both projects appears to be just around the corner.

Are Connors and his agency working themselves out of a job? "I'm aware of that criticism," Connors said. "That people in urban renewal try to perpetuate the programs to keep their jobs going as long as possible."

"I don't feel that this exists in our program. A director can detect foot dragging and it's his responsibility to prevent it. A person who has any honor and loyalty to his employer works to get the job done. If you're not serving your employer, you're stealing."

Connors looked at it another way. "There's a great shortage of qualified urban renewal people in this country. If you successfully complete a project on time, there's a great demand for your services."

Connors said that due to its accomplishments in the past year, Kingston's urban renewal program is already reaching the point where it is cutting down on staff. "We expect to be laying off some of our relocation people," he said. "That phase of the program is already nearing completion."

The relocation problem, however, is not completely solved. There are still some hard core relocation problems that the agency has had for some time.

"There are just some families that have no place to go," Connors said. "Due to their social problems, private owners won't rent to them and they don't qualify for public housing."

Connors has suggested the hiring of a case worker to at-liaison between the mayor's attempt to upgrade those families and the agency and that it to where they can qualify for private or public housing. "It's a lot of state and federal programs available to improve the city," Connors said. "We have them."

Connors thinks that his agency, the Kingston Housing Authority and the Ulster County Department of Social Services might collaborate to hire a case worker to work on the problem. Connors would also like to see a closer ties between the agency and the city government. "The cooperation has been excellent," Connors looks to 1970 as a "good year." "We'll see real progress this year."

Special

is ready and a neighborhood commercial parcel is ready to go."

In addition, Connors said the agency has completed work on the new Maple, Murray and Meadow Streets with accompanying underground storm and sanitary sewage and water lines along with new lighting.

Underground work on Broadway from Stuyvesant Street to Abeel Street is expected to start this spring with widening and paving of Broadway in the late summer and early fall.

Speaking of the situation in the uptown project in January of last year, Connors said, "There seemed to be no clear cut direction in getting something started for sure. The parking structure seemed to be the only thing going at the time."

$-Million Over Estimates

The parking structure went about a million dollars over estimates, creating a temporary setback in the agency's plans. The agency then advertised for design-construct bids on the garage within its $720,000 budget. "It looks like the problem of the parking garage has been resolved," Connors said.

The agency also began construction on a new four-lane highway between Washington Avenue and the foot of Fair Street. That should be completed this year.

New Program At Benedictine To Aid Patients

KINGSTON

In step with continuing efforts to provide total patient care, Benedictine Hospital Administrator Sister Mary Charles announced today the addition of a new program which it hoped will meet the spiritual as well as physical and emotional needs of patients.

Called the "Sister Visitor" program, one objective of the program is to provide comfort, consolation and spiritual encouragement to the critically ill and dying patients as well as their families.

The new position of sister visitor has been accepted by Sister Ancilla Woerner, OSB, who will also notify the chaplain and clergymen of other faiths of a patient's wish to see them. The program is designed for out-of-town patients or visitors such as information about hotels and transportation and will visit surgical patients the day before their surgery.

Sister Ancilla also will visit critically ill patients daily to offer comfort and encouragement to them and their families and to pray with them. She will also assist the chaplain with the sacrament of the sick, visit patients in the out-patient clinic and emergency room on a call basis and will supply religious articles and reading material in appropriate instances.

Commenting on the philosophy of the new program, Sister Mary Charles said that because "the hospital recognizes man's unique composition of body and soul, it follows that it also recognizes that patients have spiritual needs and the hospital must accept responsibility for meeting them."

She concludes, "Religion plays a very important part in man's life and he needs the spiritual help of his own religion, particularly during times of crisis."

Paltz to Preview Sex Education

NEW PALTZ

A preview of the New Paltz Central School's Sex Education Program slated to begin in September will be offered to district parents Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Duzine Elementary School in the community.

The showing will consist of material to be used in the program and school officials point out the importance of parents to attend and understand the course content.

Northern Dutchess BPW

The Northern Dutchess Business and Professional Women's Club met for an executive committee meeting Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Brooke, president.
Plans were announced by Mrs. Gloria Lagno, chairman of personal development committee, for the January monthly meeting. The meeting will be held at Foster's Coach House Tavern on Tuesday evening, Jan. 20. There will be a social hour at 6:30 and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Miss Abigail Rider, a senior at Rhinebeck Central School, will be the guest speaker. Miss Rider will talk about her recent visit to Finland as an American Field Service representative from Rhinebeck Central School, for the summer session. Mrs. Rider is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rider, River Road.
Delegates going to the New York State BPW Clubs' Winter Board Meeting to be held Jan. 23, 24 and 25 at the Thruway Hyatt House, Albany are: Mrs. C. Dorothy Brooke, president; Mrs. Dorothy Fisher, new clubs chairman, BPW Clubs of New York State, Inc.; and Mrs. Virginia Garofalo, world affairs chairman. Theme of the Winter Board Meeting is Pride and Promise — Build, Plan, Work.

President Dorothy Brooke announced that Mrs. Marie Scorza was appointed chairman of Northern Dutchess BPW Youth Conference Committee. The Business and Professional Women's Clubs of New York State Youth Conference will be held at Syracuse University in April.

Dance Planned

To Meet Thursday
Regular monthly meeting of the Kingston Power Boat Auxiliary will take place Thursday at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend as special items will be discussed.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE
Dear Gals:
Do you want to be real fancy, not only for your dinner guests, but for your family too?
Let me tell you what to do with your butter and margarine:
First, slice the butter in little cubes for individual servings and lay the slices out on wax paper. Next, take a raw potato, cut the end of it off and carve an initial or design in the cut end.
Then press the design in the slightly softened butter pats. Those butter pats will be just adorable!
Place the wax paper in your refrigerator or freezer until you are ready to use the butter pats... and while you're making the pats don't make just a few. Make lots and lots. They keep a long time when frozen.
Sure made a hit with my friends.
Heloise

sity when there is sickness in your family; more often, a convenience for the kids to eat on while they watch TV and on the nights we want to pile up in bed with snacks and a good book.
For years I have put place-mats on them to cover the marks and scars and to make the food look luscious.
The other night it dawned on me while trying to clean off some burned places and spilled food, that I had some leftover pieces of adhesive-backed paper.
So I cut the paper to fit the inside of each tray and pressed it on. Now I've got the most beautiful trays you've ever seen. And they wipe clean in a jiffy.
So don't despair, gals. There's no need to go buy new trays. Spend a few dimes (and that's about all it will cost) and get some of this self-adhesive paper in a design that goes with your color scheme and just stick it on.
It's wonderful... and washable!
Heloise

Letter of Thought
Dear Heloise:
I have found that a smile is a good thing for making friends. If you smile at another person, they will return the smile.
It helps to make our wonderful world more wonderful! Try it! It will work for you.
Ged Sandeford

Dear Heloise:
I have come upon the greatest idea for girls who wear "loopy bows" in their hair.
After constant wearing, the bows tend to become limp and flat and just don't have the shape they had when first bought.
Since I wear these bows with many of my fashions, and this has happened to me, I figured out a way to keep the bows from flopping.
I stuff the bows with tissue, making sure that each loop is stuffed enough to give it shape. Then I spray the whole bow with spray starch, let dry and spray again.
Now my old bows look like new again!
Carol Nedobry

Dear Heloise:
During the cold days when sunshine and warm daylight hours are at a minimum, those of us who have automatic washers don't have to wash the white clothes first, then colored clothes and end with heavier, dirtier work clothes.
I wash the Turkish towels first, hang them outside — then wash the work clothes and hang them outside. Rinse the tub and wash the colored clothes, ending with the "whites."
This routine gives the heavy articles extra drying time.
If you have a portable clothesline and not much shade in the yard, the colored clothes seem to be shaded a little more by having the white things hung on the outside lines.
Lucille Tedrow

Dear Heloise:
The other day while wrapping a very large gift I discovered that crepe paper streamers make a very nice and novel bow for those big packages.
It requires a little extra care when trying to tie the streamers, but you can do almost anything with crepe paper that you do with ribbon.
Granted, the results will always be "floppy," and without much body, but it's still pretty.
Z.

Dear Folks:
Oh my goodness sakes alive! Here's a little hint for those of you who use bed trays. Sometimes they are a neces-

Lillian Gish Is Charming

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

Lillian Gish is a very charming, delightful individual but she failed to pull even half a house last night at the Community Theatre. It was unfortunate, for this First Lady of the silent film era gave a most engrossing and interesting program.

For those of us unacquainted with the excitement of the silent film era, last night was an evening of information and entertainment. For the old timers, it was memories revived.

Lillian Gish was gowned in white. She perched her small, delicate frame on a stool and from there unfolded facts about the beginning of silent films and, in particular, the early background of D. W. Griffith, actor, director and writer.

Despite her age (reported to be in the 70's) Miss Gish still has a certain buoyancy to her voice which enables her to maintain a good delivery.

In a backstage interview, she stated films are the greatest invention — greater even than printing presses. This silent film star believes films can be monumental in erasing misunderstandings between countries and peoples. She firmly believes in the power of films and the good they can achieve. As an art form, Miss Gish naturally places films far above any other.

Aside from seeing Lillian Gish and her sister Dorothy as they appeared in those days gone by, it was delightful to see film clips of such stars as Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and Rudolph Valentino. It was fascinating to see the crude beginnings of film techniques as used in the silent days, the perilous scenes the stars played themselves and the evolving of camera "know-how" which is still employed today.

The film clips shown by Miss Gish were equally interesting. These included scenes from "Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Hearts of the World," "Broken Blossoms," "Orphans of the Storm," "The White Sister" and "La Bohème."

Miss Gish, in her narration, told of the harrowing filming of "Way Down East" where she almost drowned doing her own stunt work. She has the distinction of working on the first American film made in Europe and was responsible for introducing panchromatic film in this country.

Miss Gish has had a career that spanned theatre, films and television. It was Jed Harris who beckoned her back to the theatre with "Uncle Vanya," and she has happily divided her time between New York and Hollywood ever since. Her recent Broadway credits include the Pulitzer Prize play "All the Way Home" and then Robert Anderson's "I Never Sang for My Father" with Teresa Wright, Alan Webb and Hal Holbrook.

Miss Gish also appeared in more recent films as "The Night of the Hunter," "Portrait of Jenny," "Duel in the Sun" and "The Comedians" which starred Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

As her lecture indicated, Miss Gish has a book out. It is "The Movies, Mr. Griffith and Me."

Arrangements for last night's performance were made by Robert D. Hadley, executive producer with the American Theatre League. As Mr. Hadley stated prior to show time, "We hope to bring many shows into Kingston."

Helpful Hints

Do you have a talent? Most people do and what better way to cultivate it than to create your own talent corner in your bedroom? A sewing corner for a young seamstress comes to life with one wall covered in a wild, printed fabric. Arrange the fabric as curtains, whether or not it covers a window. Cover throw pillows in the same print, and cover a sewing table which doubles as a desk. An oval rug, surrounded by stenciled floor designs to complement the fabric, completes the corner.

Masking tape is a good delin- ter and a very fast way to remove lint on anything. Just press it on the garment. It will also pick up dandruff.

If writing is your theme, chalk off your own "writing zone"—include a sponge-it-clean desk that's really a game table. Arrange wall shelves above it to hold a tape recorder, books and extra lighting.

Are you wondering how to care for your plastic furniture? Laminated plastic surfaces may be washed regularly. Use mild soap. Protect such surfaces from extreme heat. Do not slice and cut on the surface.

Remodeling? Make your plans and stick to them. Last-minute addition of a window, for example, runs into money.

Lefooters Square Dance Club Officers

At the Friday, Jan. 9 meeting of Lefooters Square Dance Club, Walt Hackett, outgoing chairman, installed the following couples to be club officers for 1970: Bill and Mickey Margopoulos of Woodstock, chairman; Warren and Gloria Schoonmaker of Kingston, program chairman; Barney and Roxanne Ruck-deschel of Hurley, secretaries. Treasurers-elect, Frank and Virginia Soovajan, who were unable to be present, will be installed at a later date.

During the installation ceremony, Walt Hackett presented badges to each couple with a resume of their duties. It was noted he easily and correctly pronounced each one of the very "American" surnames.

On Friday, the Club will dance to the calling of Bob Paris, well known club caller for the Do-C-Do Club of Poughkeepsie. All club level dancers are invited to attend at Hurley Reformed Church hall, just off Route 209, at 8:30 p.m.

Susan Rose Kral Exchanges Vows With Captain J. C. Millard

Miss Susan Rose Kral became the bride of Captain John Carl Millard at a nuptial Mass on December 6 at 2 p.m. in the Gunter Air Force Base Chapel, with the Rev. Michael Caswell officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Lt. Colonel (Ret) and Mrs. Louis C. Kral of Montgomery, Ala., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Millard of Kingston.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk linen tulle with attached panel train edged in heavy satin braid.

The gown featured a simple princess fitted waist, tiny satin covered buttons from neckline to hem, a high standing Mandarin collar neckline accented with satin braid trim, and elbow length sleeves with deep ruffles. Her short English illusion veil was attached to an open crown of pearl centered Venice lace daisies. She carried a Colonial bouquet of baby pink sweetheart roses, candytuft, fuchsia white carnations, centered with cymbidium orchid.

Miss Barbara Ritchey of Montgomery was maid of honor. Matron of honor was Mrs. Forest French of Tallahassee, Alabama. The bridegroom's niece, Jamie Johnson, of Saugus, California, was flower girl. The attendants wore gowns of pale green silk tulle, matching headpieces, and carried Colonial bouquets of pale pink fuchsia carnations with pink ruffs and streamers.

Louis Kral, brother of the bride, was best man. The bridegroom's brother-in-law, James Johnson, of Saugus, California, was usher. Acolytes were David and Danny Catt.

A reception was held at the Gunter Officers' Club. After a wedding trip to Nassau in the Bahamas the couple will make their home at McChord Air Force Base, Washington, where the bridegroom will be stationed. For her wedding trip, the bride chose a white and beige wool knit dress and coat and wore a beige cymbidium orchid.

Fabiano-Carpino Nuptials Told

St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Mary Angela Fabiano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fabiano, 131 Prospect Street, Kingston, and Joseph John Carpino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carpino of East Kingston, on Saturday, Jan. 3.

The Rev. Alfred Pizzuto officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney, organist, accompanied Donald Sweeney who sang traditional settings decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line empire gown of white velvet with Venice lace daisies clustered around the ruffled collar and cuffs. The removable chapel length train was also trimmed with daisies and ruffles. Her profile headpiece, accented with Alencon-type lace flowers with sparkling crystal trim and teardrops, held her three tier bouffant veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white pompons, pink and white roses.

Miss Christine Marie Mayone of 94 Merilina Avenue, Kingston, was maid of honor in a moss velvet gown styled in the A-line, empire fashion, with multi-colored Venice lace trim. A white fur band with moss-colored trim served as her headpiece and she carried a moff of white fur accented with green pompons.

Attendants were Victoria Cirincioni of Jackson Heights, L.I., and Maria Coloneri of Jersey City, N.J., both cousins of the bride. Miss Cirincioni wore a peacock blue velvet gown, a white fur headpiece with peacock trim, and carried a white moff accented with blue pompons. Miss Coloneri wore a Christmas red velvet gown, a white fur headpiece with Christmas red trim, and carried a white moff with red pompons.

Frank Fabiano, brother of the bride, Kingston, served as best man. Ushers were Tony Quarantino, cousin of the bridegroom, Flatbush Road, Kingston; and Henry Motkowski of Jersey City, N.J.

A reception for 120 guests was held at the Capri 400' Restaurant, Port Ewen.

For her wedding trip to Florida, the bride selected a brown tweed dress and coat with brown accessories and a green corsage.

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of Kingston High School. She is employed as a licensed beautician at Wig World. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpino will reside in Kingston.

Simpson - Farrero Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simpson Sr. of 70 N. Putt Corners Road, New Paltz, announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne, to Anthony L. Farrero of Coal City, Ill., son of Mrs. Caroline Farrero and the late Louis Farrero, on December 27.

The Rev. Joseph Hickey of St. Joseph's Church in New Paltz officiated at the double ring ceremony. Anthony Aiello was organist. Arrangements of poinsettias decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace over taffeta gown, styled with a high neckline and long sleeves. A shoulder length veil served as her headpiece and she carried a cascade of baby white and red roses.

Miss Paula Bamond of Clintondale served as maid of honor and Miss Pearl Ackerman of New Paltz was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of wood violet velvet with white lace encircling the neckline and long sleeves, and carried nosegays of lavender and white chrysanthemums.

Carl Hocheiser of Poughkeepsie served as best man and Rudy Schwanker of Poughkeepsie was usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride.

The bride, a graduate of New Paltz High School, attended Dutchess Community College and had been employed as a nurse's aid at Benedictine Hospital.

Her husband, an alumnus of University of Illinois where he earned his degree as Industrial Engineer, is employed by IBM, Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrero spent their wedding trip to Plattsburgh, enjoying winter sports at Lake Placid. They will reside at Woodside Place in Highland.

Rosendale Ski Clubs Are Seeking a Winter Queen

A winter Queen is being sought by the Rosendale Ski Clubs to reign over the events of the Winter Carnival Weekend on February 7 and 8 in connection with the New York State Ski Jumping Championships to be contested on Joppenbergh Mountain.

Any single girl, 16 thru 21, living in the Town of Rosendale or within the Rondout Valley School District is eligible to enter the contest which is being coordinated by Mrs. James Owens of East Road in High Falls. Contestants are urged to send a photograph to Mrs. Owens along with a resume of their school and community activities. A panel of judges will review the applications and determine the winner of the contest. Entries must be in the hands of Mrs. Owens by Friday, Jan. 23.

The Winter Queen will be asked to view the ski jumping tournaments from the judges tower on Joppenbergh Mountain and also to be the guest of honor at all social functions connected with the big tournament weekend. She will also receive a personal gift from the Rosendale Ski Clubs.

Design Ideas

No longer do children and light-colored upholstery have to avoid each other. With the new man-made fabrics now on the market, you can indulge your taste for damask, linen or whatever pleases your fancy. All kinds of textures and patterns are available in easy care synthetic upholsteries.

—Dark blue walls, perhaps in a floral wallpaper with touches of lighter blue and cream, make a lovely background for a walnut bedroom suite. The whole would be perfect for that teenage girl in your home.

— Let the room express the personality! When you are decorating a room for your son or daughter, take his or her hobbies into consideration. Look for such decorator tricks as a knight's-helmet bank for the chivalry buff; a ship's lamp for the dryland sailor.

Onteora, Rondout Valley Fives Share Top Spot in UCAL

By MORT LAFFIN

KINGSTON — Onteora and Rondout Valley are tied for first place in the Ulster County Athletic League. Sound familiar? It should. Both these teams battled it out last year for the top spot. Onteora coming out on top and, while the issue is still in doubt, it will be a surprise in some quarters if these two well-coached, hard-fighting, talented teams aren't taking it to the wire again.

Onteora handed Highland a 68-56 loss, the second in a row for the former residents of first place in the UCAL, while Rondout obliterated Pine Bush, 58-27, Tuesday night. Onteora won at home, the Ganders on the road.

In other UCAL action, New Paltz, under the direction of their fine coach, Frank Davis, picked up their first win of the season, dropping host Wallkill, 59-34. The Huguenots may be out of the running for the title, but have been getting stronger and will undoubtedly play the role of spoiler some night when the leaders least expect it.

Highland had been rolling along in first place with a 4-0 record, while Rondout and Onteora had been beating each other and losing to Marlboro. But, many observers on the local cage scene felt that time and the Indians and Ganders would catch them and it happened just like that.

First, Rondout knocked them off, 67-56, last Friday and then Onteora last night.

Highland took an early lead, 9-3, as the Indians experienced some first quarter jitters. However, Coach Ron Pape's boys recovered in time to knot the score at 9-9 at the six-minute mark before things got out of hand, with the score tied 12-12 at the end of the first period.

In the second period, the winners, led by Steve Kimmel, and, what a night he had with 27 points, hit for nine of the 18 points, with Ed Mercer adding five. Highland's high scoring guard, John Crawford ran into foul trouble early and had to sit out until the third period.

Both teams played each other to a standstill in the third quarter, with Onteora's Brad Robins getting five points and six rebounds at key times.

In the fourth period, Kimmel was again in the spotlight, going to the hoop on one-on-one situations, dribbling behind his back, between his legs and completely astounding Highland's quintet and the packed house. Kimmel had eight in that period and Mercer added seven.

"The boys were outstanding, particularly Kimmel and Mercer," said Pape after the game. "But I thought that it was a team effort all the way. The whole team game me 100 per cent. Dan Smith, Mercer and Dennis Gale had 10 rebounds apiece and that told the story," he concluded.

Mercer had 20 points and Gale 10 for the winners. Hardy Marx was highman for the losers with 12. Perry Monroe was outstanding off the boards with 16 rebounds.

Rondout completely dominated every phase their first five minutes of the game with Pine Bush. Their defense was so tough that it held the Bushmen scoreless for again dominated play off the boards for Coach John "Chick" Meehan's boys as Koola hit 16 points and Baney 13, with many rebounds, while not playing the entire game as Meehan went to his bench liberally. Jim Long had 10 for the losers.

John Palonis and Brad Hart sparked a second half drive for Hita with 10. Palonis had 17 rebounds, while not playing the entire game as Meehan went to his bench liberally. Jim Long had 10 for the losers.

Coleman Nips Foe

CATSKILL — John A. Coleman High School's basketball team came from behind and outscored St. Patrick's of Catskill 17-9 in the last quarter to win 58-53, for the Statesmen's seventh win in ten games.

Pat Harder led the Statesmen attack with 21 points and grabbed off 14 rebounds. Craig Renn took top rebounding honors for the Coleman cagers with 16 and hit for 16 points also.

Renn put Coleman ahead 54-53 with 1:04 to go. Bill Schumaker of St. Patrick's fouled Pat Harder with 42 seconds left in the game via a flagrant foul and was tawed with two successive fouls after being removed from the game. The lad even threw a punch at his own coach it was reported.

However it didn't help Coleman as they blew all five free throw attempts, three by Harder and two by Renn. On the in-bound play Harder went in for a layup to give the Statesmen a 56-53 lead, with 20 seconds to go. St. Patrick's came down and missed. Renn took the rebound and hit Harder on the fast break and the (Still) went in for the bucket to give Coleman the final basket, 58-53.

"The boys played a helluva game, and they didn't choke to night," said Coach Bill DuBois. Harder gave us a very aggressive game and Renn did a fine job in all around job," added DuBois. Coleman hit on 24 of 54 field goal attempts for a 44 per cent average. The Statesmen could have hit a lot higher percentage, but they missed layup after layup. "We would break their defense and get through to the hoop, but then we'd miss the chipie," added DuBois.

Coleman travels to Highland, who is on a two game losing streak and will be looking to take it out on the Statesmen. The Coleman Junior Varsity team coached by Les (Faz) Lombardi up its record to 5-3. All 10 members participated in the game and scored at least one point. Mark Weber led the little Statesmen with 13 points, in 51-30 victory.

Presidents Score Overtime Victory

SAUGERTIES — "The fans really got their money's worth tonight." With these words Roosevelt High School Coach Gerry Marquardt described how he felt after his team downed the Sawyers of Saugerties, 88-85 Tuesday night in a triple overtime tilt. The Dutchess County Scholastic League Central Section Section tilt was played at the loser's floor.

The Sawyers had many opportunities to ice the tilt in the late going of the regulation periods and led the beginning of each extra stanza, but fouls and turnovers kept the Presidents storming back to ultimately win the game.

With the score knotted at 71 all, with six seconds left on the clock, Saugerties' Ray Bean took off down the floor and laid the ball up and in for what appeared to be the winning tally. However, the buzzer apparently went off before he released the ball as the referee disallowed the hoop.

Saugerties Coach Jerry Hawkins thought that it might have been good but said: "No one heard the buzzer, except the ref, due to the noise of the packed house, it was close enough, time could have run out."

Both teams took a two-minute breather and then started the first of the extra periods. Roosevelt went out in front, 73-71 on a jumper by Jay Hall. Saugerties came back as Bill Benham tied it on a jump shot. Joe Coston made it 75-73 on his layup, but John Carnright hit two fouls to knot the score once again, 75-75 just before the end of the overtime.

The second extra period started with the Sawyers determined to end it all right then and there as Benham and Carnright hit back-to-back shots, giving Saugerties a 79-75 lead. But, it wasn't over as Carnright fouled out. Doug Kilmer hit two from the foul line and Tom Chahanovich fired in two more after Benham's shot. The score, 81-81.

Benham again gave Saugerties a four point lead at the start of the final overtime as he hit on a driving layup and a long jumper, making the score, 85-81, however fouls again hurt the home side as Roosevelt ran off seven straight points to ice the win.

Wayne Boone was the first to score for the winners as he dropped in two foul points.

Chahanovich followed with two points. Rich Koegel added 14 more to tie it. And when the Sawyers still couldn't score, Doug Kilmer hit a set shot and Hinzi, a foul to take the game.

"I can't believe we lost this one," said Hawkins after the game. "I just sat there on the bench after it was over, hoping that somebody would wake me up and tell me I was dreaming. It was quite a shock. Fouls were the difference. We were 20-22 going into the overtimes and then we went an unbelievable 4-13. That was the game."

Onteora Girls Gain Third Ski Victory

BELLEAYRE—Judy Hevesi led the Onteora High School's Girls Ski team to its third straight win of the season over Fallsburg by a total team margin of 29.5 seconds. Hevesi has placed first against every team to date this season. Tuesday she was clocked in the Slalom run in 48.7 seconds which was 8.9 seconds faster than her closest competitor.

Things weren't quite so rosy for the boys team, as they dropped their second meet in three outings. Carl Lumbaca was again outstanding for the Onteora squad as he came home first for the second time this year and was timed in 43.95 seconds. Lumbaca's time wasn't enough to offset the Fallsburg team which placed all five of its skiers in the first seven positions to win the meet by 9.95 seconds.

The big test for the Indians comes today when they meet undefeated Kingston High School who has several top notch skiers.

Wallkill Proves Easy For Ellenville Grapplers

WALLKILL—Ellenville High School's grapplers scored their fourth win in five matches as they downed Wallkill for the second time this year 29-21. In the first contest at Ellenville earlier in the season Ellenville had won easily 34-16.

The Ellies have four wrestlers still undefeated this year. Bruce Myers scored his fourth win without defeat by pinning his opponent to the mat in 2:46 in the heavyweight class. Bob Sahler scored his fourth victory and remained undefeated with a pin over Walt Eichler in the 167 pound class in 4:31.

The other two boys without a loss this year scored decision wins. Neil Knapp won by a 11-3 verdict in the 187 pound division. Pat Lamaestra won a 3-1 decision in the 140 class. David Ballantine scored a pin in the 132 pound division in 4:19 for the Ellies.

Other Ellenville wins came in the 157 pound class as Pete Berger dropped his man to the mat in 3:30. Ken Jeter also scored a decision win for the Ellies in the 199 class with a 6-2 margin.

Wallkill pins were registered by Lou Sukanda in the 177 weight class and Bill Vingoe in the 117 pound class. Wallkill now has a 1-4 record for the year. Ellenville travels to Liberty for a real test Friday night.

The results:
Ellenville 29, Wallkill 21.
100—Ed Koonz-W, won by forfeit.
109—Ken Jeter-E, dec. Jim Digs by 6-2.

Liberty Tops KHS In Match Duel, 32-18

LIBERTY—Ron Shields remained undefeated for the Maroon grapplers as he won the only contest match for the Kingston High School squad which dropped a 32-18 decision to Liberty High.

Kingston's other points came on forfeits received by Dave Salmi in the 110 weight class. John Tiano in the 177-pound division and Charles Kaune in the heavyweight class.

The fastest pin of the afternoon was recorded by Ted Lewis in the 157 pound class when he grappled his opponent to the mat in 1:34. Liberty's record stands at 1-1 and Kingston is 0-3.

The results:
Liberty 32, Kingston 18.

RV, Bushmen Tie On the Mats, 26-26

PINE BUSH—Rindout Valley High School's grapplers had to take the last three matches in succession to gain 26-26 tie with host Pine Bush in an Ulster County Athletic League encounter Tuesday night.

Trailing by 11 points going into the final three face-offs, Gene Terwilliger, wrestling in the 177 lb. class, started the comeback with a 9-4 decision of Pat Donnelly. Charles Burton followed with a 9-4 decision of Al Schadack and Rich Gilliland came through with the needed pin of Vin Bubolo in 1:50 to endure the tie.

On the plus side for the Ganders, Tom Coddington, wrestling in the 125 lb. class kept his undefeated string alive with a pin on Dave Minto in 4:40. Coddington is now 9-0, including three wins and the fastest take down time in the Liberty Invitational. All nine victories have been via the pin-route.

The results:
58 lb.—Al Zwart (PB) pinned Frank Kortright, 2-30.
109—Don Maneno (PB) pinned Bill Carroll, 5-10.

Heavyweight—Rich Gilliland (R) pinned Vin Bubolo, 1:50.

Tuxedo Quintet Bombs Marlboro

TUXEDO—they coming in the third charity stripe, going 18-21 for period. Mike Smith contributed a commanding 32-27 halftime score, blasting away for 34 points in the second period, to down visiting Marlboro, 94-77, in a non-league tilt Tuesday night at the winners' floor.

Dean Jones did most of the damage for the winners in the second period as he collected 12 of his game high 22 points. Scott Appelon had 16, 14 of them coming in the third period. Mike Smith contributed to the win with 20, as teammates Jack Barrone and Ed Montaine added 14 and 10 respectively.

Don Wells was high man for Marlboro with 20 points, while Rich Gerentine added 13. Tuxedo utilized a pressure defense and fast-break offense most of the night. They also hit a fine percentage from the

Hawk Swimmers Notch Sixth Win of Season

Coach Art Stockin's New Paltz State U swimmers moved into the midterm recess with a fine glow after defeating New York State Maritime, 69-35, in a dual meet in the Bronx.

It was the Hawks' sixth win without a defeat. They have one tie and will be idle until Feb. 6 when they host powerful Buffalo State in a SUNYAC meet.

There were two double winners—John Mason and Steve Schulman, as the Hawks won 7 of 12 events and split the relay, winning the 400 medley (NP), Dave Alexander (NP), Blue-ridge (M) T-11:51.4.

Johnson Hits 25 Points

Kingston Cagers Beat Monticello Five

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Kingston High School's cagers, led by Rocky Johnson's 25 points, opened their DUSO League season on the right note by downing host Monticello, 56-32 here Tuesday night. Kingston is now 1-5 overall and is tied for first place in the DUSO circuit.

The Maroon cagers had been having their troubles all season on offense, with no one being able to average in double figures, but Johnson took care of that last night, all by himself, as he hit from all over the floor for Coach Mike Rienzo's quintet.

Monticello broke out with an early lead, 13-11, in the first period as Gene Walker and John Snowden took command for the Monties. However, their lead was short-lived, as Johnson broke loose in the second period, dropping in 12 points. In fact, Rocky had seven of Kingston's 11 points in the first quarter.

Losers Come Back

The losers came roaring back in the second half, outscoring the Maroons, 13-13 in the third period, and 14-10 in the final stanza, but Johnson, Emilio Platts, Brian Williams hit key baskets to keep Kingston slightly ahead. The Kingston defense, led by Bruce Gerbang, did another outstanding job as they limited the high-scoring John Snowden to just 12 points on five field goals. Walker had 23 for the losers, and Snowden 12, but the Maroons stiffened when the going got rough and kept Monticello from hitting the key baskets. Platts ended up with 10, coming at important times in the tilt. Walker had 11 in the third period and added five more in the final stanza, but it was too late.

Johnson, Leading Scorer

Johnson had been the leading scorer for the Maroons, averaging an uninspiring 8.4 per game, with 42 points in five games. However, last night's scoring outburst gave him 67 points in six games for an 11.45. Natural ally, he is still the team leader in that department.

Kingston, as a team is now hitting 47.6 per game, with Johnson still being the only man in doing a good job on the defense. The Maroons had been guilty of many miscues on the offense.

missing layups and foul shots at key times in their first five games, but put it all together against Monticello, obviously inspired by Johnson's individual effort.

Rienzo Happy

Kingston's coach was quite proud of his team's first win and rightfully so. "We had 66 rebounds, 27 offensively and 39 defensively as Johnson had 23 rebounds, Platts 17 and Chuck Jackson had 10. Johnson came up with 15 rebounds and five assists. "I thought it, our first win, would never come. We were JV's up until tonight, but it's behind us now."

Rienzo sent on: "Rocky was great all around, but still came up with nine turnovers. If we can cut down on our turnovers and make our easy shots, we'll be tough. Turnovers hurt us again, but I'm proud of the boys, they did a fine job. It was a good team effort."

Kingston plays at Port Jervis on Friday. The JV's won, 49-31, Ron Burris was high with 11 points. They are 5-1.

Davidson Fails E.C.

By United Press International

East Carolina's hopes for an upset of ninth ranked Davidson Tuesday night got fouled up along the way.

East Carolina did outscore the Wildcats in field goals, 31-30, but the Pirates saw Davidson cash in on 31 of 48 free throw attempts and walk off with a 91-76 victory.

Things got so bad for East Carolina that its entire starting team fouled out in the second half and the Pirates' chances for an upset were soundly scuttled.

Doug Cook led Davidson with 26 points and sophomore Bryan Adrian added 20 to the Wildcats' attack. East Carolina's Tom Miller took game scoring honors with 29, before, of course, fouling out.

Illinois took over sole possession of first place in the Big Ten race and Kansas State did likewise in the Big Eight with impressive victories.

Greg Jackson and Mike Price combined for 47 points for Illinois as the Illini upped their conference record to 4-0 with a 101-80 triumph over Northwest. Meanwhile Kansas State used sophomore David Hall's 14 points and 17 rebounds to trip

Nebraska, 71-64.

Ohio State, with all five of its starters in double figures, overcame a 34 point performance by Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich and beat the Wolverines, 103-95. Dave Sorenson paced HE Buckeyes with 29 points and Jim Clemons hit for 28.

Wisconsin's Albert Henry set a school record by connecting John Hummer outscored the entire Penn State team with 39 points as the Tigers whipped the 'Nittany Lions, 77-38; Joe Wiley's 33 points paced St. Louis to an 88-77 victory over Memphis State; Texas A&M used Mike Heitman's 25 points to beat Texas, 87-81; California walloped Portland, 84-66; and Princeton's Jeff Petrie and VMI edged Richmond, 71-70.

Floyd Coming Back

NEW YORK (UPI)—Floyd Patterson was back in the gym today preparing for a final comeback to fulfill a promise and pay tribute to an old friend.

Fifteen months ago, the former two-time champion stood in the ring in Stockholm expecting to own the title again after beating up World Boxing Association champion Jimmy Ellis for 15 rounds. When the decision was given to Ellis, Floyd was so heartbroken he decided to quit.

Al Bolan, a longtime advisor have faith and spoke of a his plans.

and close friend, continued to come back, and Floyd agreed. "I didn't know how ill Al was," Patterson said. "When Ann Bolan and her children, I'm not going to kid myself, I'll be honest, but if I'm successful in that fight, I'll go on. If I don't feel good in there, I'll hang 'em up."

The money from Patterson's return to the ring, tentatively scheduled for late March or early April, will be presented as a gift to Bolan's family.

Promoters from Detroit, Las Vegas, the West Coast and England have met with Patterson's representatives in hopes of staging the fight.

Rhinebeck Scores

RHINEBECK score with only three seconds left in the game. Rhinebeck High School's basketball team won a 44-42, triple overtime thriller from Red Hook High here Tuesday night after tying the score with just three seconds left in regulation time.

Rhinebeck was trailing 32-28 with one minute left in the game and Cal Foux stole the ball and scored, to make it 32-30. Bob Hawco a new starter in the Rhinebeck line-up scored the only two points, but they turned out to be the two to tie the

Green Bay Tackle All-Pro Seven Times

Packers' Forrest Gregg Most Honored Pro of Decade

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—The decade of the 1960s in the National Football League belonged to the Green Bay Packers.

They ran up a record that will be difficult if not impossible for any team to equal in a single decade in the future. In the 60s, they won six Western Conference crowns, five NFL titles and the first two Super Bowls.

That's why it's not surprising that the Packers dominated the United Press International NFL "team of the decade" with nine players of the 28 honored.

The team was selected by going over the 10 UPI NFL all-star teams of the last decade and determining which players had been named the most number of years at each position. There were 28 players named to the 22 positions because of ties at five positions. No other club had more than three players.

All-Decade Pros

Quarterback—John Unitas, Baltimore (3).Running Backs—Brown (5) and Robinson (5).
Defensive Ends—Jones (6) and Jordan, Alex Karras, Detroit and Merlin Olsen, Los Angeles (4).
Middle Linebacker—Nitschkeor Dick Butkus, Chicago (3).
Linebackers—Forester (4) and Robinson (3).
Cornerbacks—Bobby Boyd, Baltimore (4) and Adderley or Dick Lane, Detroit (3).
Safeties—Wood (5) and Larry Wilson, St. Louis (4).

Of course, players like The big change of the sixties came in 1962 when the tight end position was formally recognized for the first time and Ditka was named the first three years. In 1960 and 1961, three running backs had been named.

Only two centers—Jim Ringo of Green Bay and Tinglehoff were named in the 10 years while wide receiver was the most wide open position with 16 different players honored over the decade.

Hayes of San Diego garnered game honors with 37 points.

Dear Abby

Let Him Do Chasing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune)

DEAR ABBY: I could always figure out my own problems, but since we seem to be living in a different world from our children, I have come to the point where I can use some help.

My daughter is 22. She has a boyfriend who is going to college in another town. It's his last year, and he lives close enough so he could drive home on week-ends if he wanted to. He used to, but lately he hasn't so my daughter thinks it is all right for her to drive down to visit him every week end.

Maybe I'm old fashioned, but I don't think this is right. She talks about getting married next year, and they aren't even engaged. I don't like to see her running after him. I think she is cheapening herself. I love my daughter, and I trust her, but this difference of opinion is driving us apart. What do you think?

LOVING MOM
DEAR MOM: There are two schools of thought, "absence makes the heart grow fonder." (Yours.) And, "Out of sight, out of mind." (Hers.) Knowing nothing about the relationship between your daughter and the young man, I hesitate to recommend one school over the other, but I'd be inclined to tell her to idle down her engine, and let HIM burn up the highways for a change.

DEAR ABBY: I have a mother who listens in on the other telephone when my sister is talking to her boyfriend. I don't go by the downstairs phone to catch her at it, but I have walked by where the phone is, and there sits Mom listening in for all she is worth. I don't think this is a very nice thing for my mother to do, but then you don't go telling your mother what to do especially when you are a 12-year-old boy and she is a 42-year-old lady. So hurry your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069 for Abby's advice. I was thinking maybe I should tell my sister.

A BOY IN NEWARK
DEAR BOY: That would be a very brotherly thing to do.

DEAR ABBY: When my sister, Leona, was married, my parents gave her and her husband, Ross, many lovely pieces of furniture as a wedding gift. Leona died quite suddenly, one year after her marriage and Ross put the furniture in storage and moved into a smaller apartment. That was two years ago.

Now my brother is getting married, and my parents have told me that they intend to ask Ross for the furniture so they can give it to my brother and his fiancée as they feel it should be kept in "our" family. Ross is also considering marriage in the near future.

Abby, I wasn't "asked" for my opinion. My parents simply told me of their intentions. I personally feel that my parents are out of line to ask Ross for the furniture. I believe that Leona would have wanted Ross to keep what ever they shared. I also believe that my brother and his wife would feel uncomfortable accepting the furniture. Should I speak my mind? Or should I keep my mouth shut?

STILL WATER
DEAR STILL WATER: Speak your mind. I agree with you.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks a lot for not agreeing with that reader who was all for getting middle-aged men out of the bedroom and into fishing boots. Our streams are already crowded enough as it is without filling them with more frustrated fly-fishers.

Truly yours,
BOB PEEL AS

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Optimism is fine, but refuse to be a Pollyanna. Recognize Don't be taken in by song-and-dance about getting rich quick. Guard your assets—get questions and act on money's worth. A promise is only as good as individual making it. Respond accordingly. 21): You may feel need of understanding companion. That you may have to do some figuring about costs, percentages and taxes. One who is expert in these fields could require additional information. Stay within law.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): One form of treatment, procedure may be finished. Open mind to new possibilities. Be aware, alert. Keep up with the times. Work with organization aimed at helping those less privileged. CANCER (June 21-July 22): New approach to friend with problem is advocated. Don't permit your emotional energy to be drained. Maintain self-esteem. There is no need for you to feel inferior. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You cannot evade basic duties. Issues. You should not want to do so. Your security is enhanced. More persons trust your judgment. You can accurately perceive significant trend—do so.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Don't be in too much of a hurry to close deal, begin project or finalize agreements on paper. Seek additional information. A change is going to occur which could alter plans. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be very careful about spending—remember obligations, promises. If aware of details, you won't be caught off guard. Some red tape is due to be removed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): JANUARY 15, 1970
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You can protect yourself from emotional injury by being realistic. Some who use stinging words today do so out of frustration. Air will clear if you are patient. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A relative may confide financial problem. Be fair and sympathetic. But remember your own obligations, study LIBRA message. Signing notes for people today is not advised. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You finish rather than begin project. Some details remain bothersome. But this is communication problem. There is no real disagreement. Realize this, and act accordingly.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have fondness for drama, the arts. Your own abilities along this line are probably recognized. A better home situation is upcoming.

Luck Plays Part in Duplicate
By Oswald & James Jacoby
dummy and saw that there was a sure four no-trump if the club suit would break nicely for him. He decided to play the hand on the theory that clubs wouldn't break and that maybe those declarers who reached game wouldn't make it. He called for dummy's nine of diamonds. East took his 10 and returned a heart. West won with the 10 and led the diamond five. South thought that one over carefully and called for dummy's seven. East was on lead again and played a second heart. West was allowed to win that also. Then West played out his king of diamonds. South finally took that trick. The defense had four tricks in and the queen of diamonds was set up as a potential fifth. South decided to insure his contract by taking the spade finesse. That lost and West cashed his diamond queen but there was no way for South to lose anything more.

At that his score of plus 90 turned out to be average. It seems that lots of other North-South pairs reached the proper three no-trump contract but the declarers tried to make it without using the club suit. Those declarers did manage to make eight tricks, but eight tricks when you need nine produces a minus score. West opened the deuce of diamonds. South looked over

South's one no-trump call was irregular to say the least and North's pass was silly indeed. He should surely have raised the no trump bid. West opened the deuce of diamonds. South looked over

Bridge is a game of both luck and skill. In rubber bridge the man with the good cards is going to win and the better he plays the more he will win. In duplicate good cards don't help but there is still plenty of luck. Take today's hand as an example.

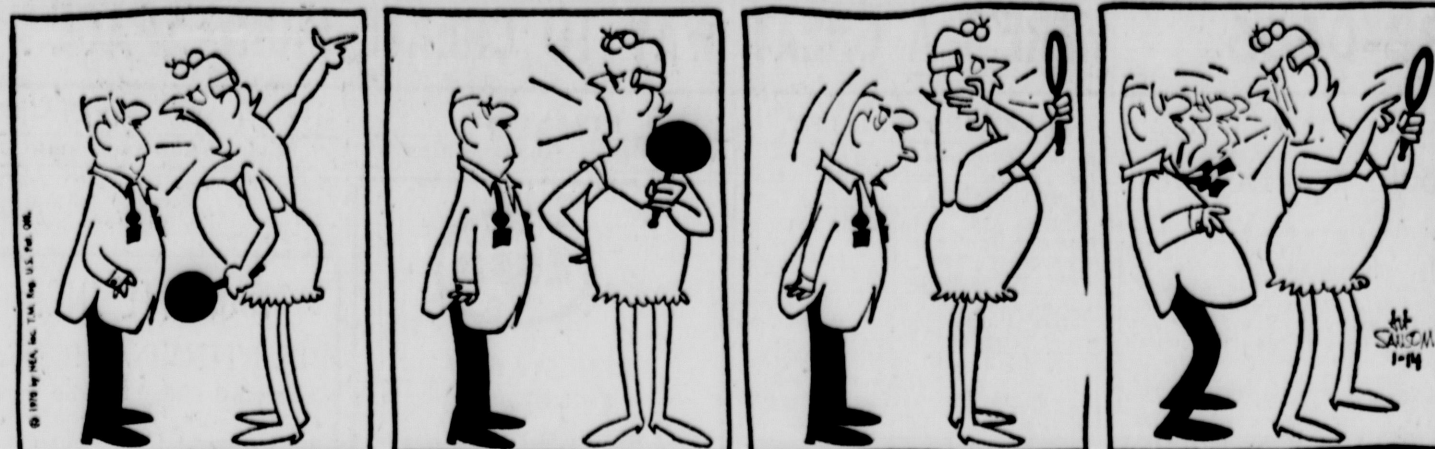

South's one no-trump call was irregular to say the least and North's pass was silly indeed. He should surely have raised the no trump bid. West opened the deuce of diamonds. South looked over

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

FALL GUY: (Q.) I fall in love with every girl who comes along. I tell her I love her and she says she loves me. For a few weeks everything goes OK, then, bang, she tells me she doesn't want any part of me.

I need help. I can't go around falling for every girl I see, and knowing all the time I'll have a broken heart afterward.—Easy Come, Easy Go in Atlantic City, N. J.

(A.) Develop a more mature attitude toward girls and love. Study a girl who sends out waves toward you. Look at her good points, and at her bad ones, too. Don't let her know that every moment how you feel. Keep your cool. If you get to know her better you may not want to declare your love to her. If you still want to, your friendship may last longer for the waiting and weighing.

Until you do acquire this slower, longer-range attitude, your ability to find new loves in a hurry is an asset: A new love is the best thing there is to heal a broken heart.

JUST A LITTLE: (Q.) I just want to wear eye shadow (lightly) and mascara (very little). My mother wants me to wait till the 10th grade. I'm in the eighth now. I look good in eye make-up. Mom knows I do. I've showed it to her. Please give me your advice.—Big Eyes in Texas.

(A.) The eighth grade is young for daytime eye make-up. And if it is used it should be, as you say, very light.

If other girls of good taste in your class are using it, my advice would be to go ahead. If not, wait.

(Want personal answers to your questions? Write to Jean Adams, Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001. Only letters that include a stamped, self-addressed envelope will be answered.)

Abrams Praises S. Viet Troops

SAIGON (UPI) — Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of U.S. troops in South Vietnam, praised the South Vietnamese army today and said its soldiers had come out of their latest test with Communist forces "with tremendous confidence."

Abrams said the South Vietnamese army performed well in a six-week campaign late last year in the border province of Quang Duc north-east of Saigon in defending the Green Beret Special Forces camps of Bu Prang and Duc Lap.

"I don't think there's any question but that the 23rd (South Vietnamese army) Division, the commanders, the people who are in it, have come out of this with a tremendous confidence and pride in themselves," Abrams said.

He made the comments in an interview with UPI correspondent Barney Seibert at Ban Me Thout, 157 miles northeast of Saigon, where colorful ceremonies were held to mark the successful defense of the two border camps. Communist losses in the battles were listed at more than 1,500 dead.

"It (the battles) had a fine effect, firming for them (the South Vietnamese) what they really can do," the four-star general said.

Military spokesman said today American B52 bombers blasted suspected troop concentrations in three border provinces north of Saigon late Tuesday and today in the heaviest such raids in months.

The U.S. command reported only light and scattered fighting on the ground and said it was the lowest level of battlefield contacts since the allied forces observed a 24-hour New Year's Day truce two weeks ago.

Military sources reported the surrender of a North Vietnamese lieutenant colonel to South Vietnamese regional force militiamen Tuesday afternoon near Dai Loc, 354 miles northeast of Saigon.

The sources said the officer, who claimed he was chief of staff of the 2nd North Vietnamese Army Division, was one of the highest ranking North Vietnamese officers to defect during the nine-year-old war.

In the scattered action Tuesday, U.S. helicopter gunship crewmen attacked a group of North Vietnamese troops southwest of Da Nang, killing at least 10 of them, military spokesmen said.

The incident Tuesday occurred in the same general area where Americans killed 46 Communists in three battles Monday.

U.S. intelligence sources have reported a Communist buildup in the area in recent weeks as well as throughout the five northern provinces.

No American casualties were reported in Tuesday's encounter near Da Nang.

American infantrymen reinforced by armored vehicles fought Communist troops in a one-hour battle just before dark Tuesday 40 miles northwest of Saigon and southeast of the province capital of Tay Ninh City, spokesmen said.

Lawyer for Yablonski Critical of Labor Office

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The attorney for slain unionist Joseph A. Yablonski has accused Labor Secretary George P. Shultz of contributing to his death by not heeding repeated appeals to investigate alleged corruption and fraud in the United Mine Workers (UMWA).

"The Yablonski family and the Yablonski supporters believe—and I share their belief—that the failure of the Labor Department to investigate the illegalities in the UMWA election contributed to the death of Jock Yablonski," Joseph L. Rauh said in a letter to Shultz.

Yablonski, his wife and daughter were murdered Dec. 30 at their home in Clarksburg, Pa.

"Your repeated failure to intervene could not have encouraged the most lawless elements to believe that the Yablonski group was defenseless," Rauh said.

Shultz last week ordered his department to investigate the Dec. 9 UMWA presidential election, which Yablonski 53, lost to incumbent W. A. "Tony" Boyle. But Rauh said Tuesday the department is not pressing the probe with enough vigor and is still showing "indifference... to the scandalous conditions inside the UMWA."

In response, the Labor Department said 200 men working in 21 teams have been assigned to the investigation. "Some of the material in Mr. Rauh's letter is relevant to the investigation to the UMWA election complaints and has been added to the file," the department said.

Rauh urged that a federal task force—encompassing the Labor and Justice Departments, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Internal Revenue Service and other agencies—be created to investigate both the election as well as other alleged corruption in the UMWA.

Rauh said he tried to present his request personally to Shultz Monday, but was told by Labor Department solicitor Lawrence Silberman to "go through normal channels."

Rauh said it was time to forget about normal channels and "get down to the hard reality of whether the UMWA is to continue to be above the law."

Rocky Proclaims A Day

By United Press International

Observances of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday Thursday will range from church services to a school holiday in parts of New York State.

Governor Rockefeller Tuesday proclaimed Jan. 15 as "Martin Luther King Memorial Day" in the state after resolutions calling for the proclamation were presented in both the Senate and Assembly earlier this week.

The resolutions call on all citizens to display the flag and encourage schools and churches to commemorate the day.

"It is fitting that as we commemorate the anniversary of his birth, we reaffirm our resolution to commit ourselves to the fulfillment of the dream of Martin Luther King — the dream that all men shall live as brothers," the governor said.

Albany priests and ministers planned to gather for an evening observance at the Hope Baptist Church. Speeches and hymns in King's honor were scheduled.

Buffalo Mayor Frank A. Sedita, responding to a request by the civil rights group BUILD, proclaimed the day in honor of the slain leader. Sedita said the day was not a legal holiday, but urged observances be held.

In addition, Buffalo civil rights leaders are attempting to get the city to name an avenue after King.

Classes have been cancelled in King's honor in the Beacon school district in Dutchess County after a request was made by students. Also, many communities in Westchester County have declared a school holiday.

Here in Ulster County there were no announced plans to commemorate the day.

The president of the State Teachers Association, Emanuel Kafka of West Hempstead, urged the 104,000-member organization to take "appropriate measures to commemorate" King in the schools.

"A FRIEND RECOMMENDED ELECTRIC HEAT FOR MOBILE HOMES..."

says Anthony Moran ...

"... so I put it in mine, and I've never been sorry. It's silent, safe and odorless, which is important in compact quarters. I have complete peace of mind about reliability and cost (since my bills have been right on the nail compared to the estimate Central Hudson gave me.)"

Mobile Home, Modern Custom or 18th Century Colonial, Electric Heat is the modern, dependable, comfortable heat. And if you're interested in exactly how much electric heat will cost for your home, call Central Hudson. We stand behind our estimates.
